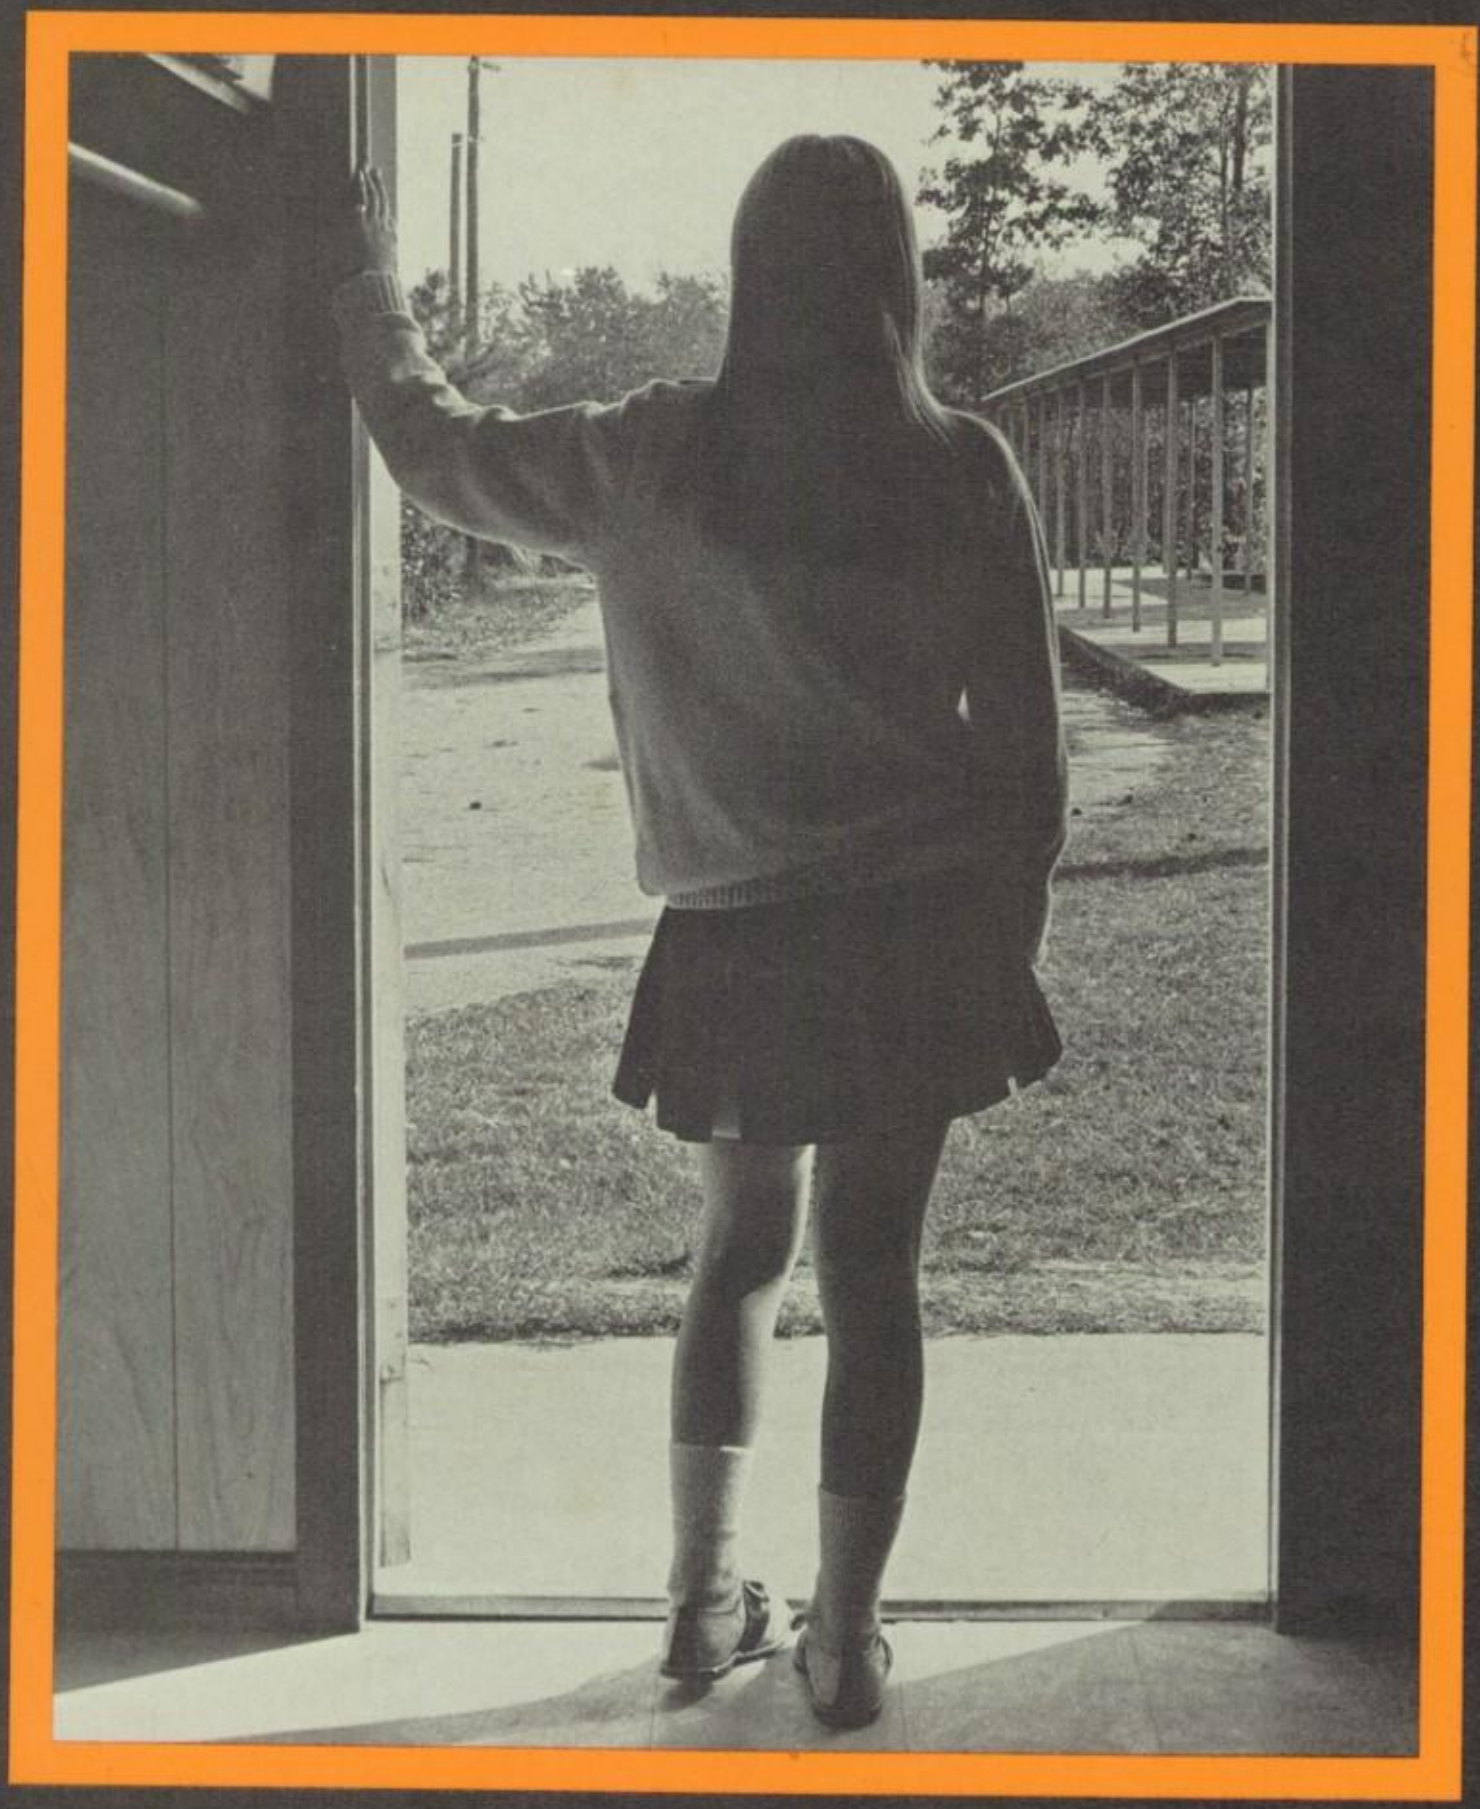
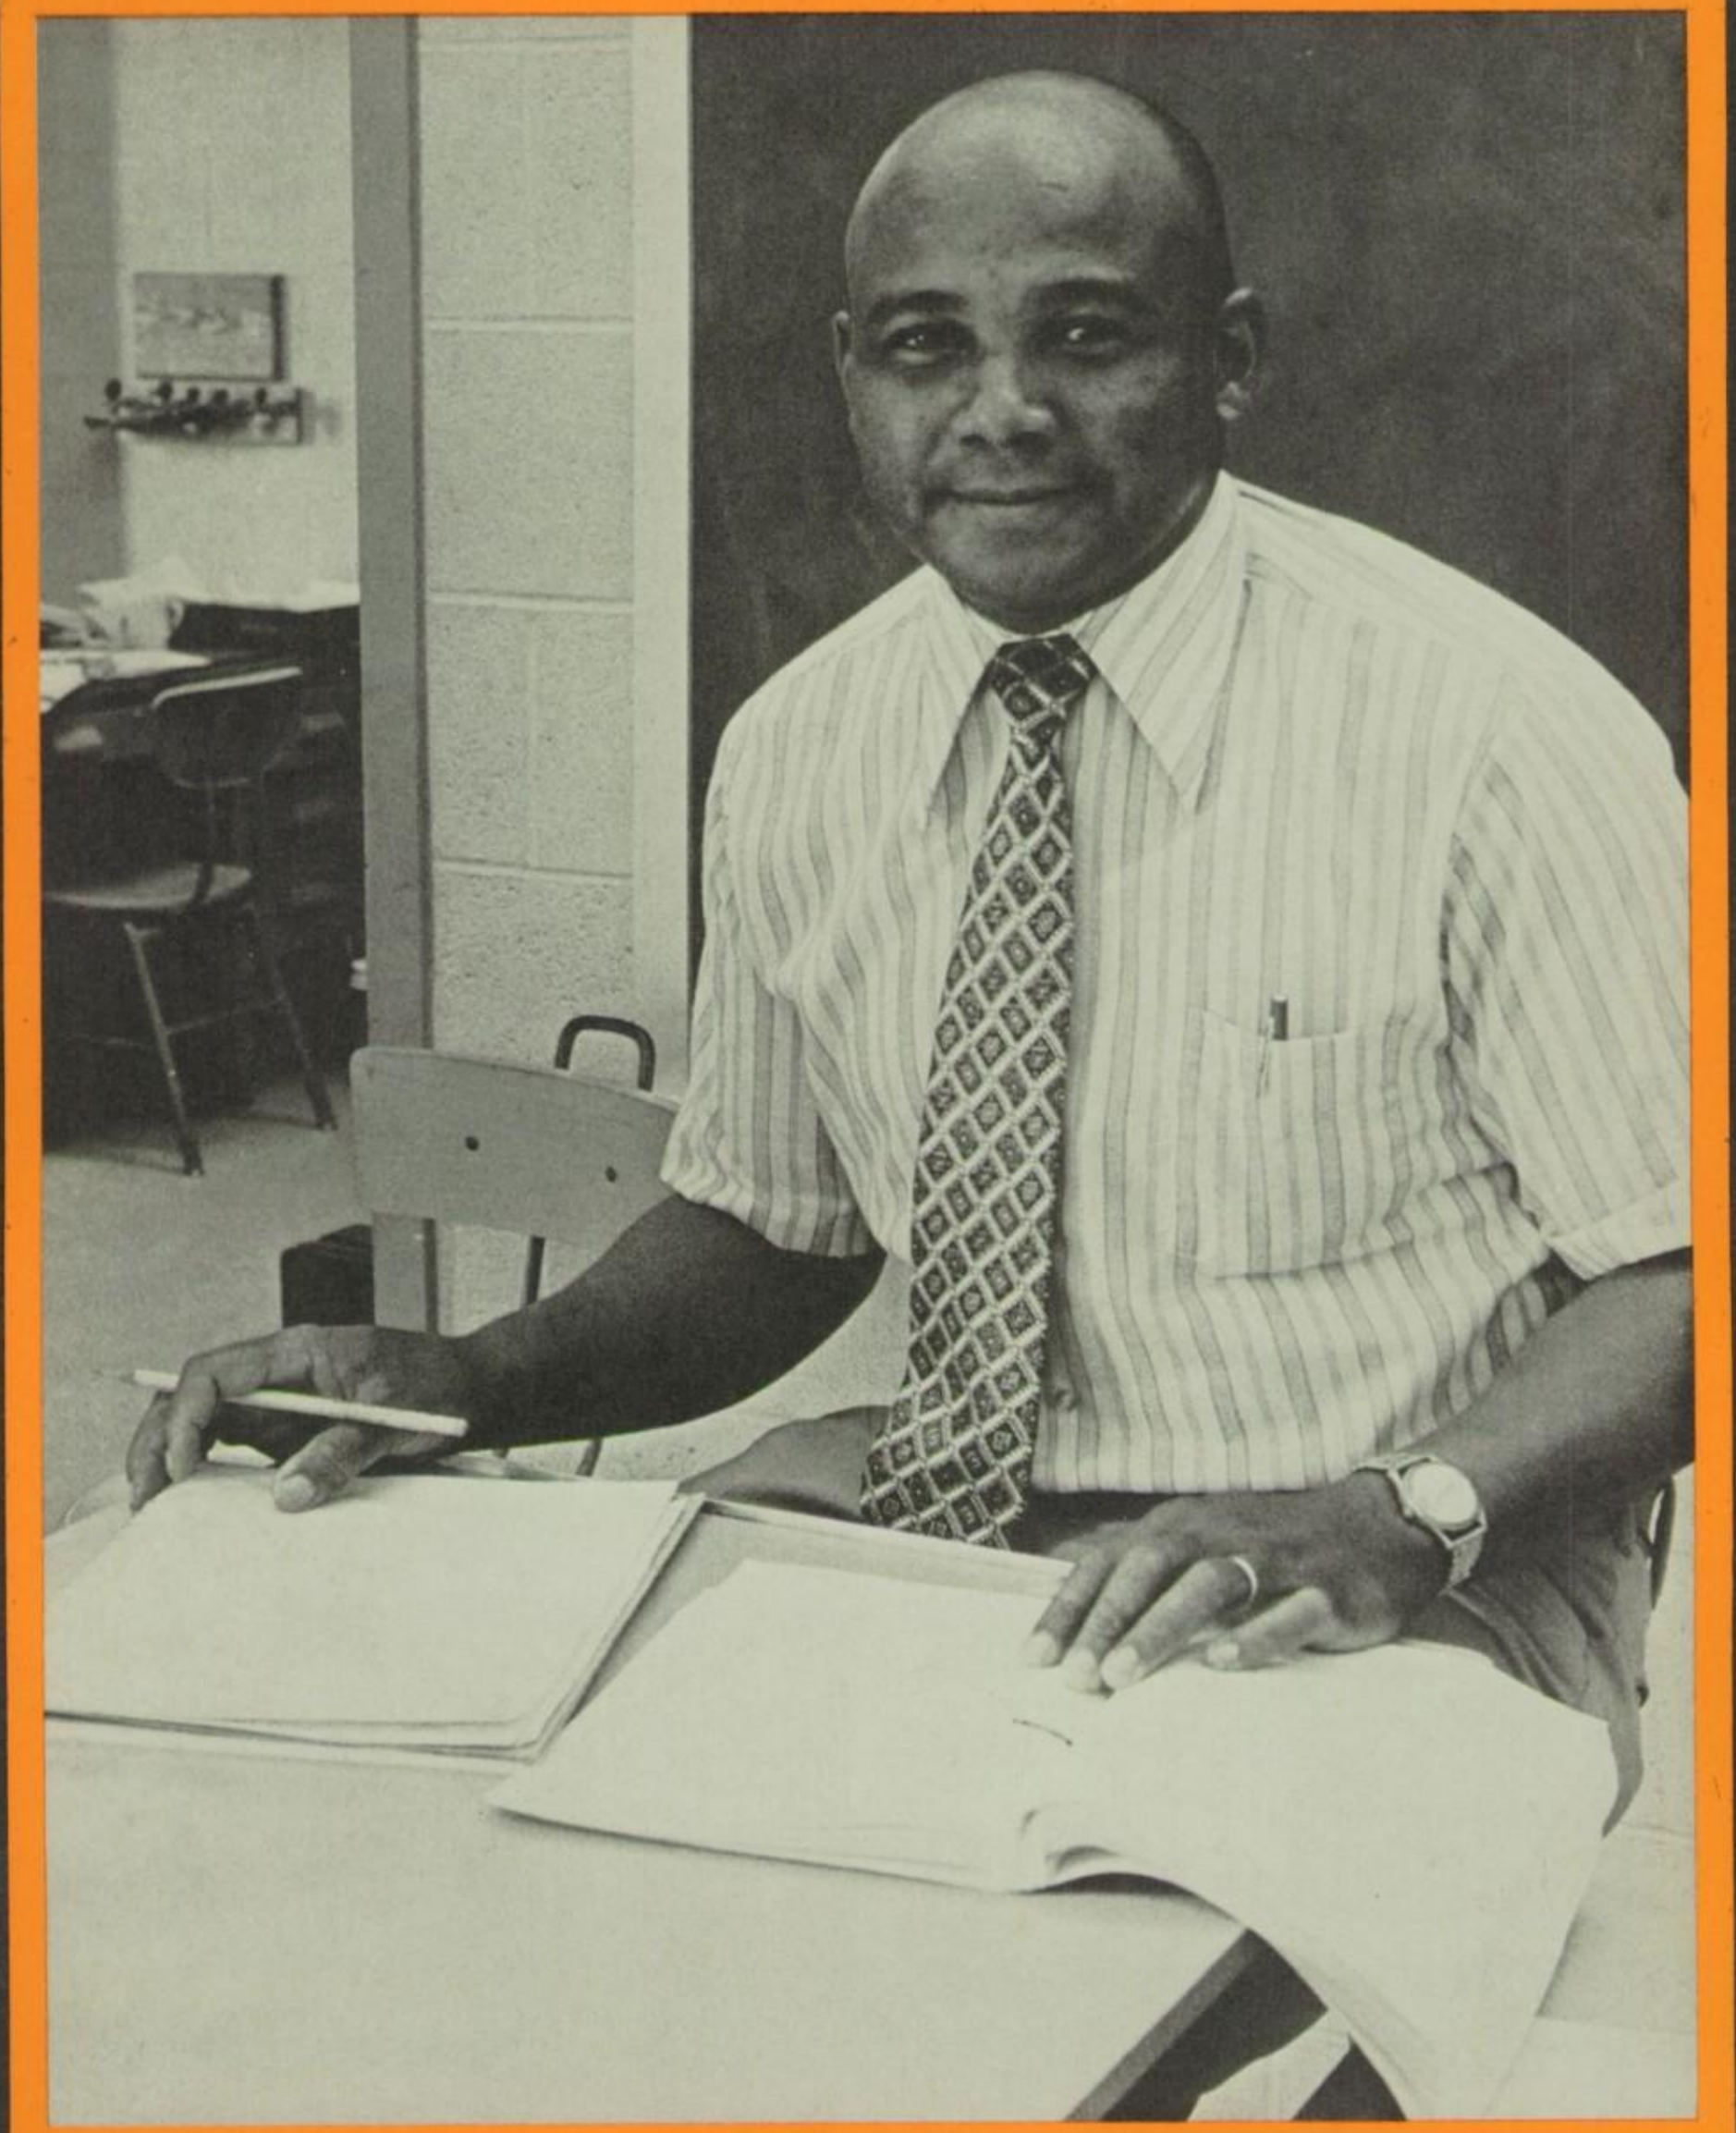
Go placidly amid the noise and haste, and remember what peace there may be in silence.



This is the gift that God reserves for His special proteges. Talent and beauty He gives to many. Wealth is commonplace, fame not rare. But peace of mind — that is His final guerdon of approval, the fondest sign of His Love. He bestows it charily. Most men are never blessed with it; others wait all their lives — yes, far into advanced age — for this gift to descend upon them.

Joshua Loth Liebman

We Dedicate the 1974 Forester to . . .



John Monroe

because he is a great leader among men. He dedicates so much time and effort to, not only the education of students, but also to the development of the qualities of leadership through club activities. He is greatly respected and loved by his students and associates for his wisdom, knowledge and leadership. He is the kind of person who relates to students well because he does not try to rise above them as a supreme ruler, but comes before a class ready to listen as well as teach. He cares for the needs of the individual without forgetting the class as a whole. He was nominated as Teacher of the Year. He served as state advisor of the Industrial Arts Club for two years.

For eight years of contributing to the education of the students of Forest Glen, we, the members of the Annual Staff and Beta Club, proudly dedicate the 1973-1974 Forester to John Monroe.

The young man himself.

As far as possible without surrender be on good terms with all persons.

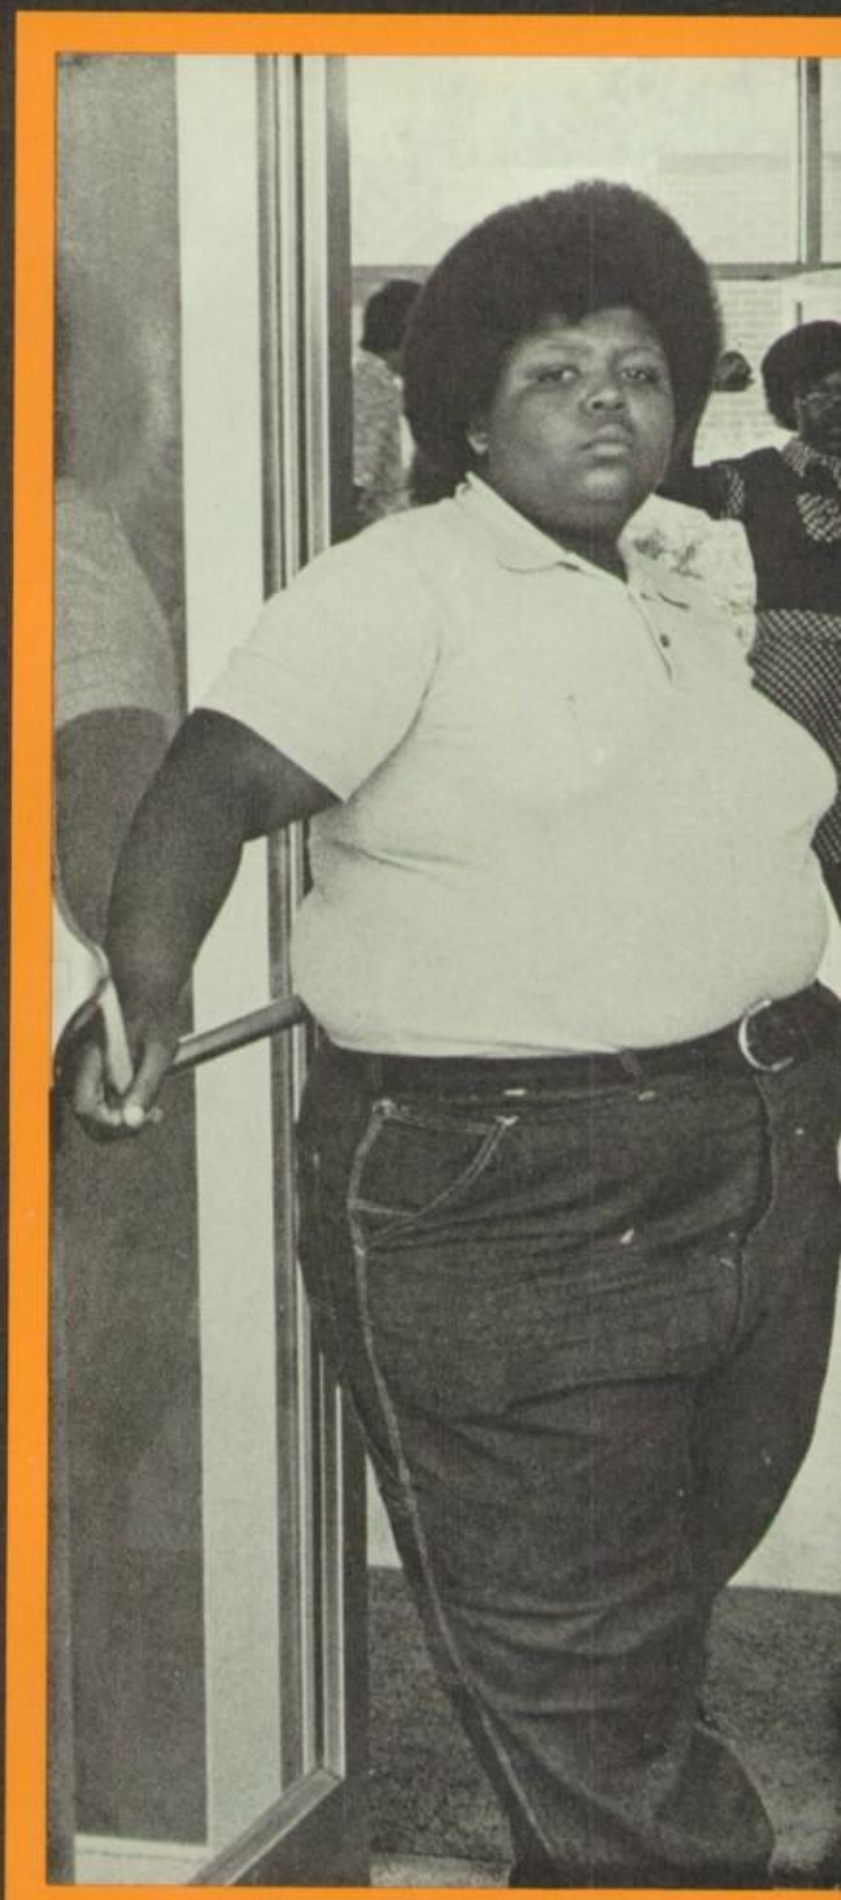
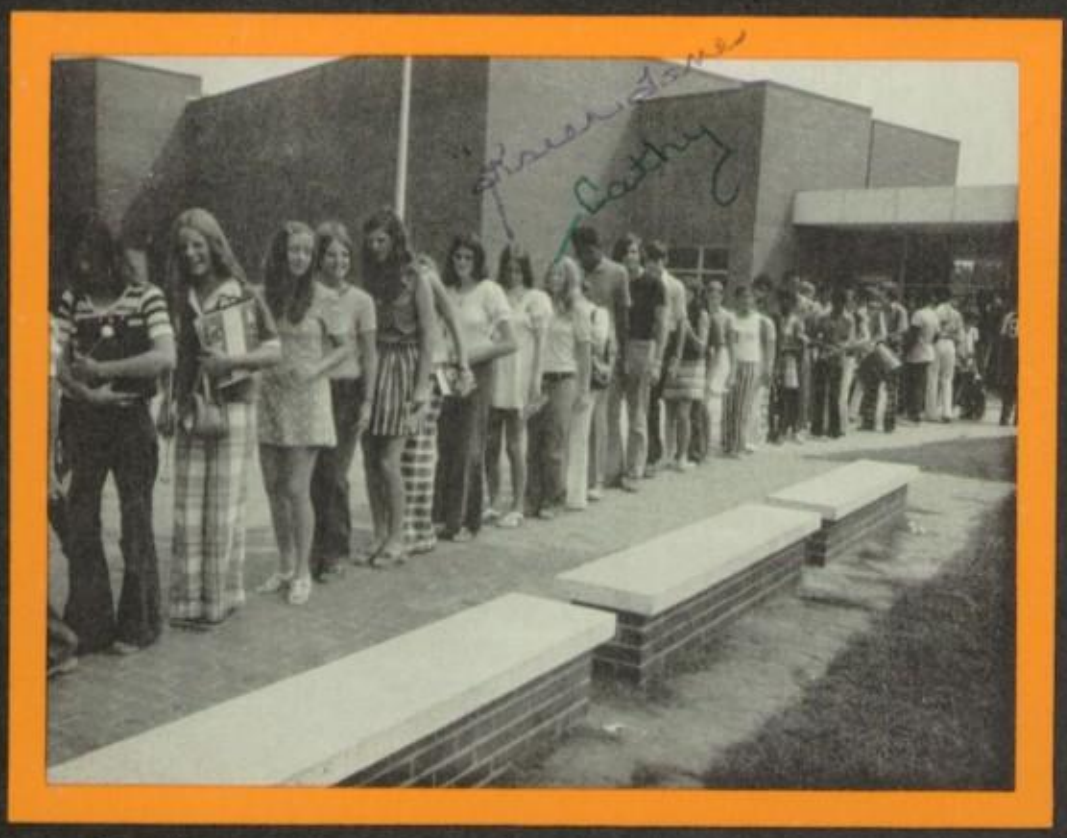
The making of friends, who are real friends, is the best token we have of a man's success in life.
Edward Everette Hale

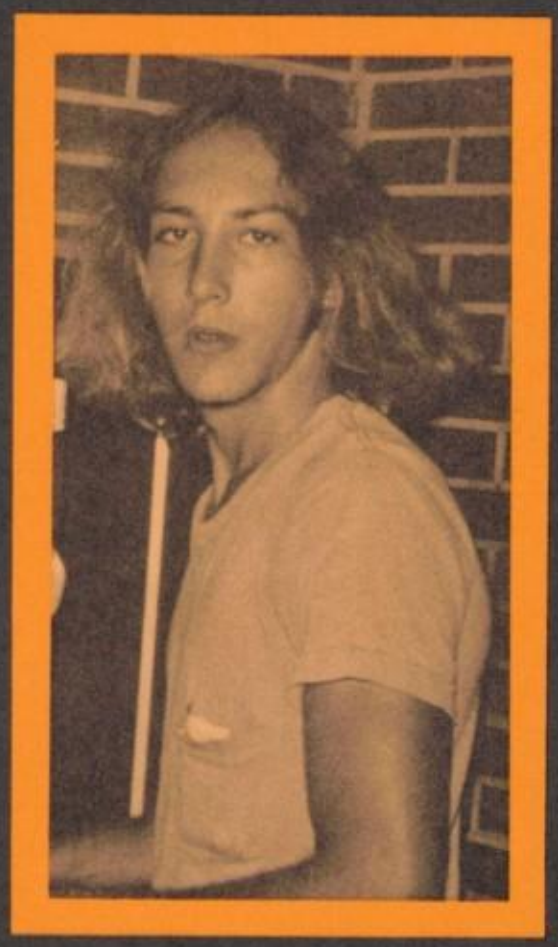
Speak your truth quietly and clearly;

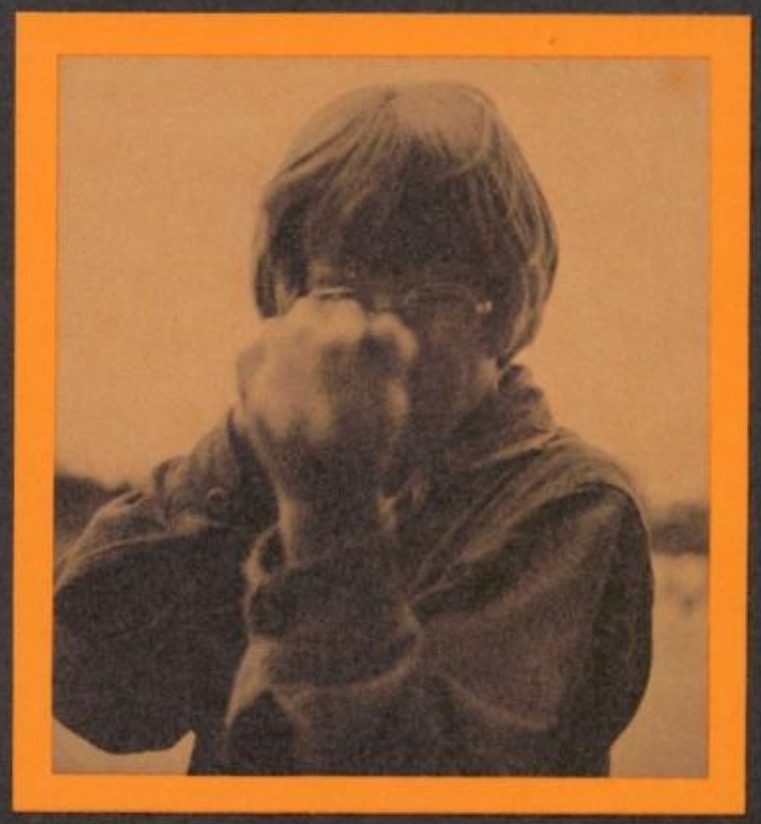


Listening is the beginning of understanding. If we at Forest Glen would just try to listen to every individual, great or small, perhaps we would find happiness in them.

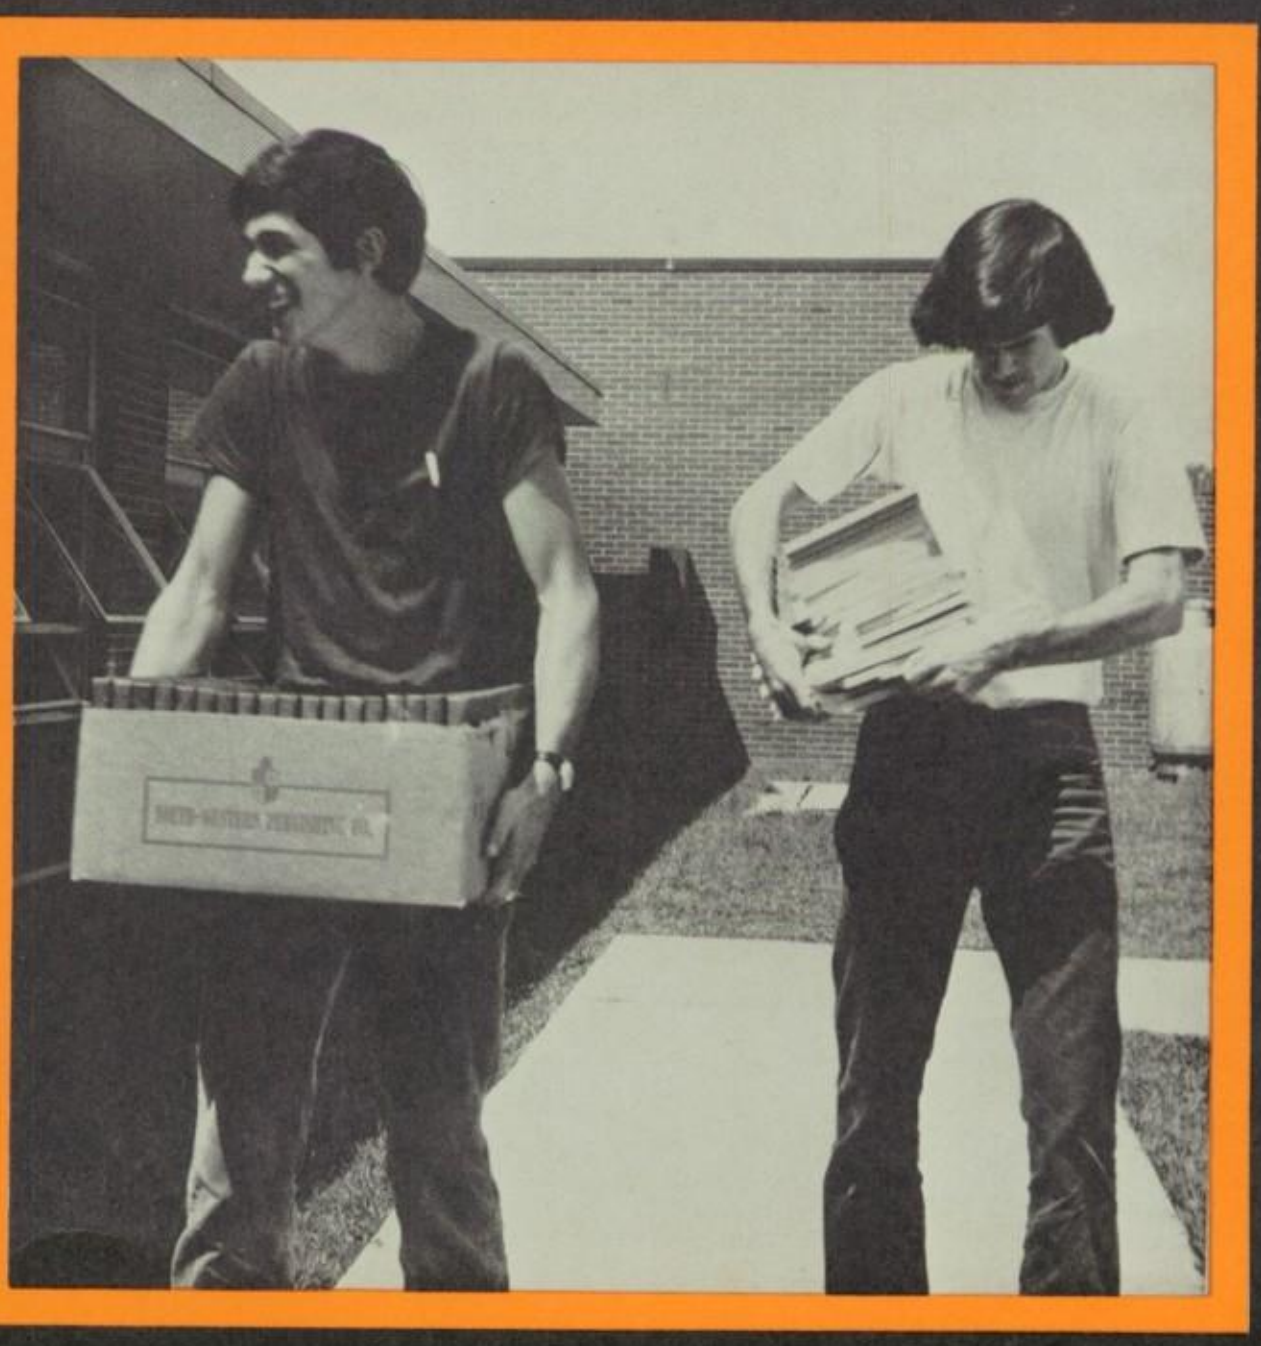


and listen to others, even the dull and ignorant;

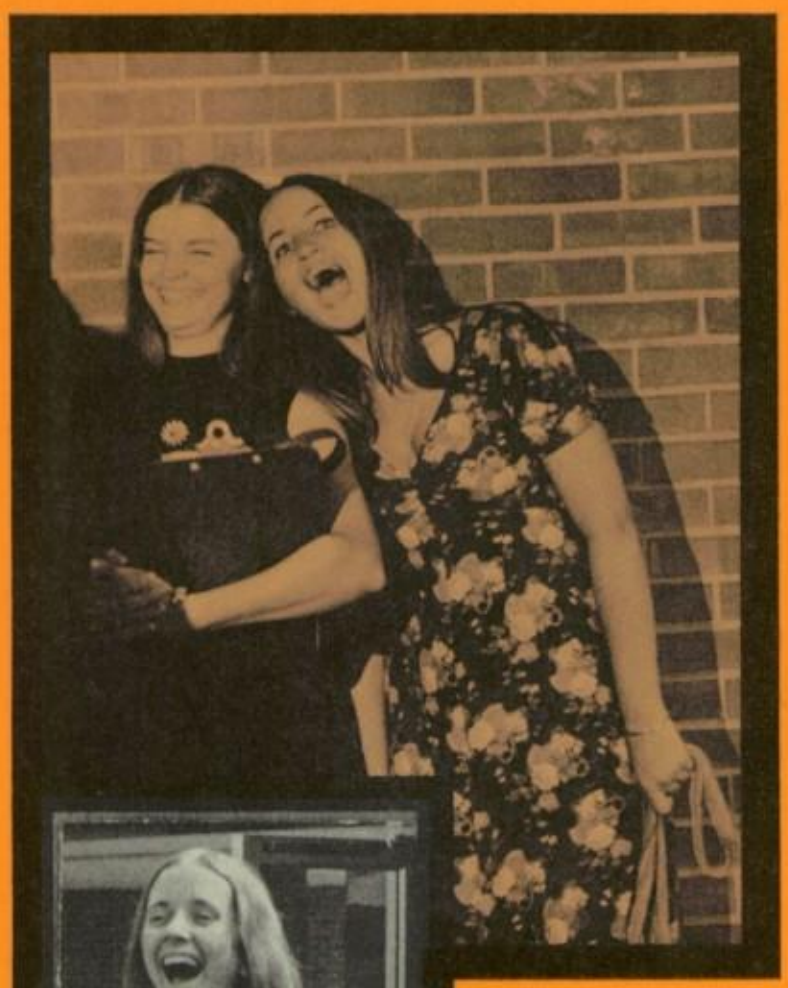




they too have their story.



Avoid loud and aggressive persons, they are vexations to the spirit.



The question is not what a man can scorn, or disparage, or find fault with, but what he can love, and value, and appreciate.

—John Ruskin

If you compare yourself with others, you may become vain and bitter;

for always there will be greater and lesser persons than yourself.

Enjoy your achievements

We travel along the road of life hardly knowing what we are, yet always daring to be something; seldom saying what we mean, but never afraid to have meaning; sometimes failing in our endeavors though never tempted to cease trying; seeking satisfaction at every level, yet never defining happiness; often apologizing for our existence, while realizing that life is its own excuse.

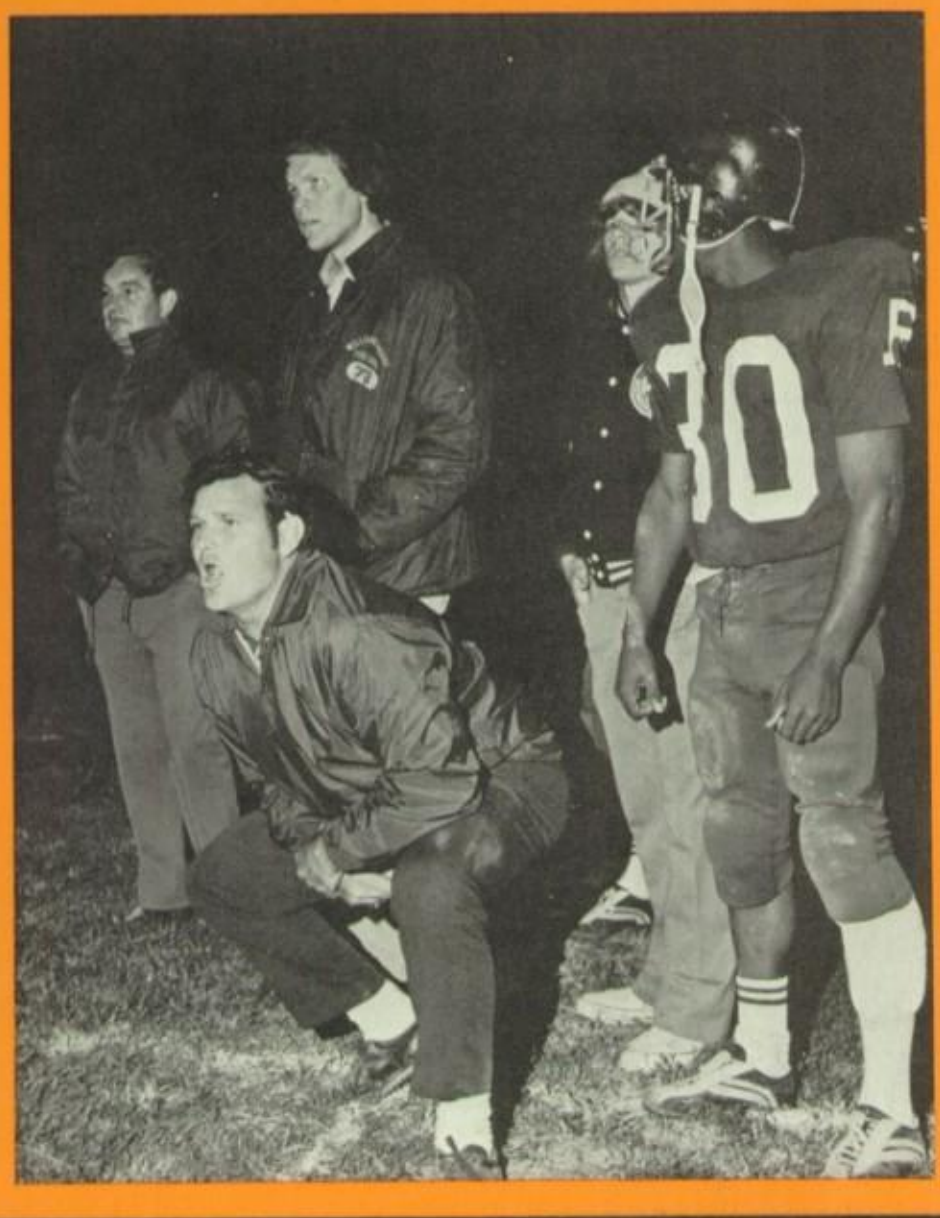
as well as your plans.

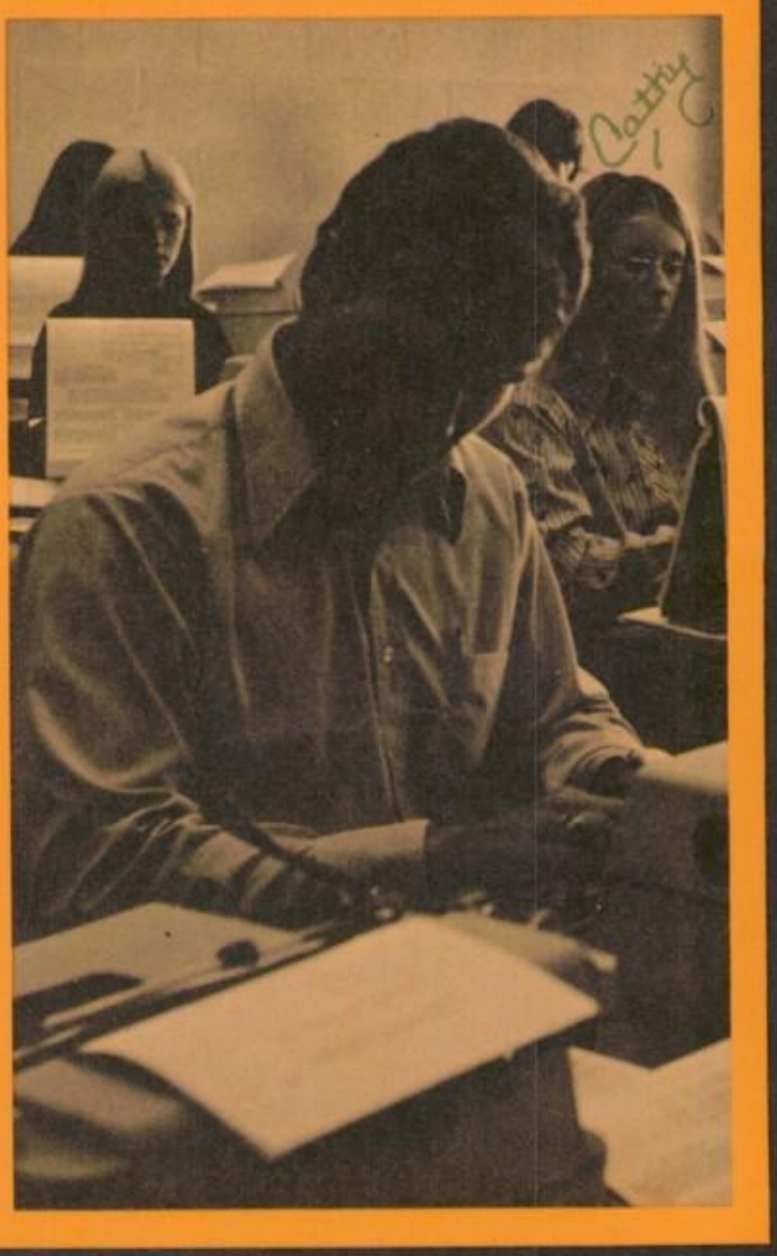
But the real joy of our otherwise insignificant efforts is that we are never quite satisfied to be on the left, or right, or in the middle of the road. We are always attempting to change its direction.

Alan Ashley Pitt

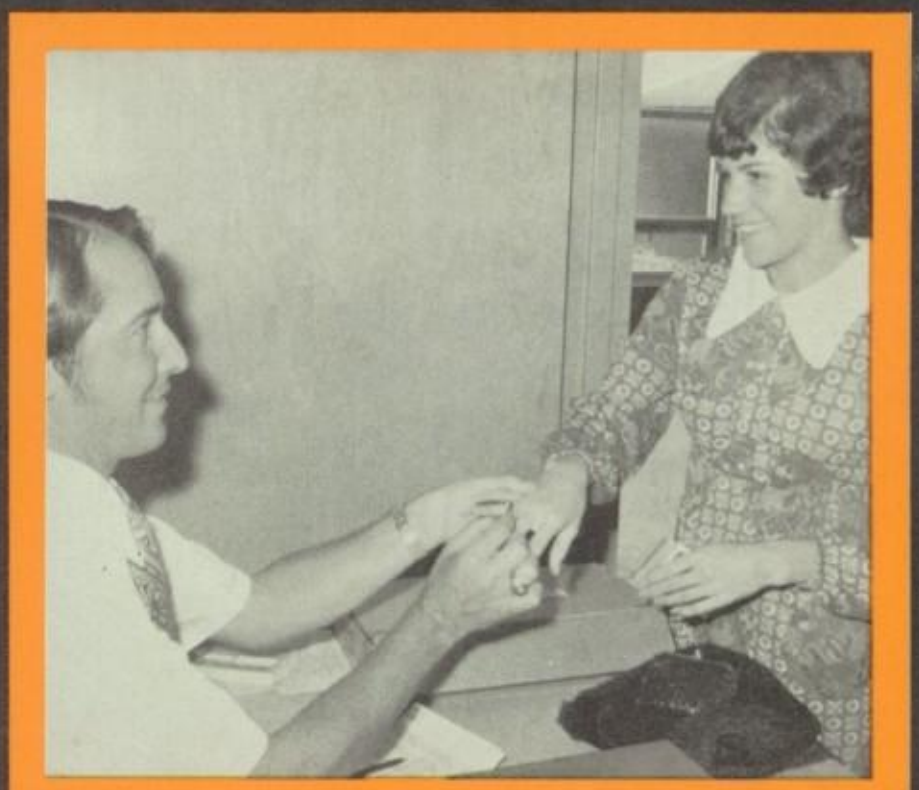
Keep interested in your own career,

however humble;

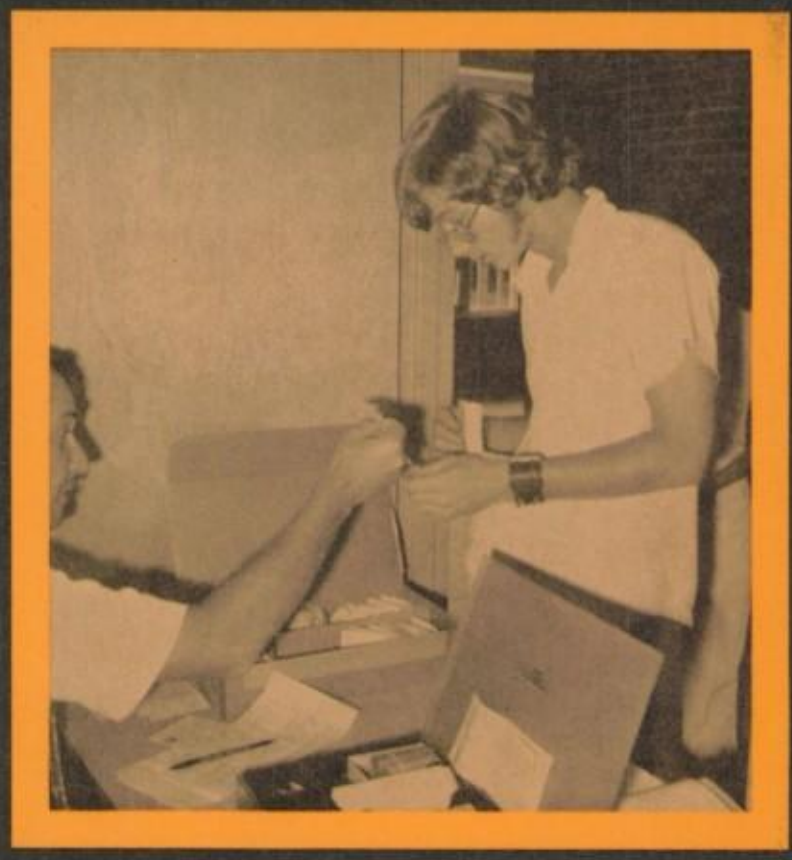




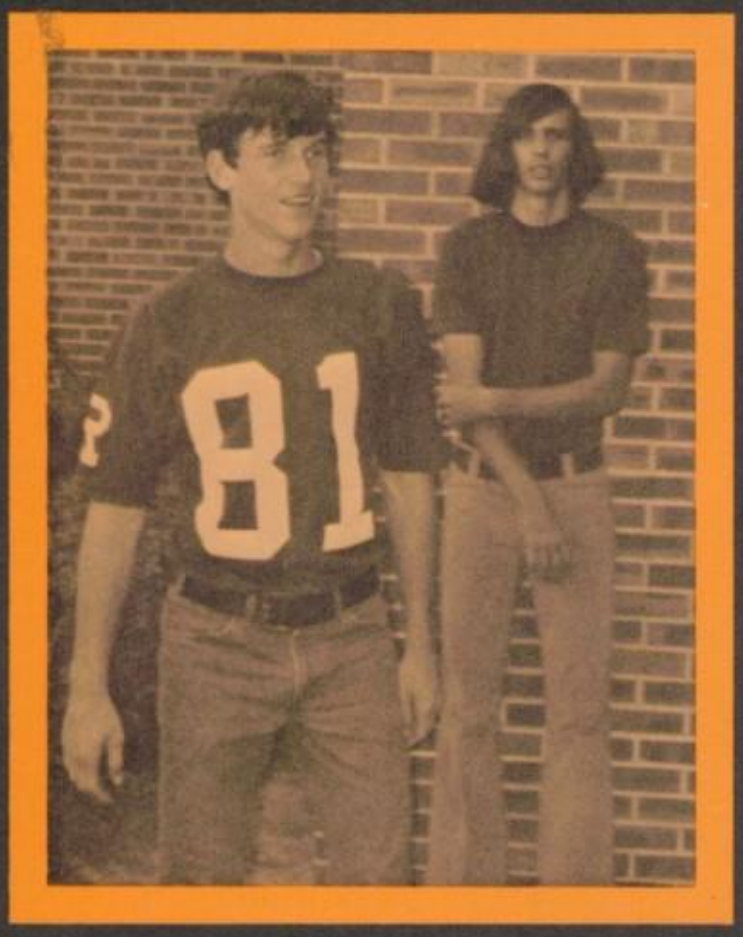
it is a real possession in the changing fortunes of time.

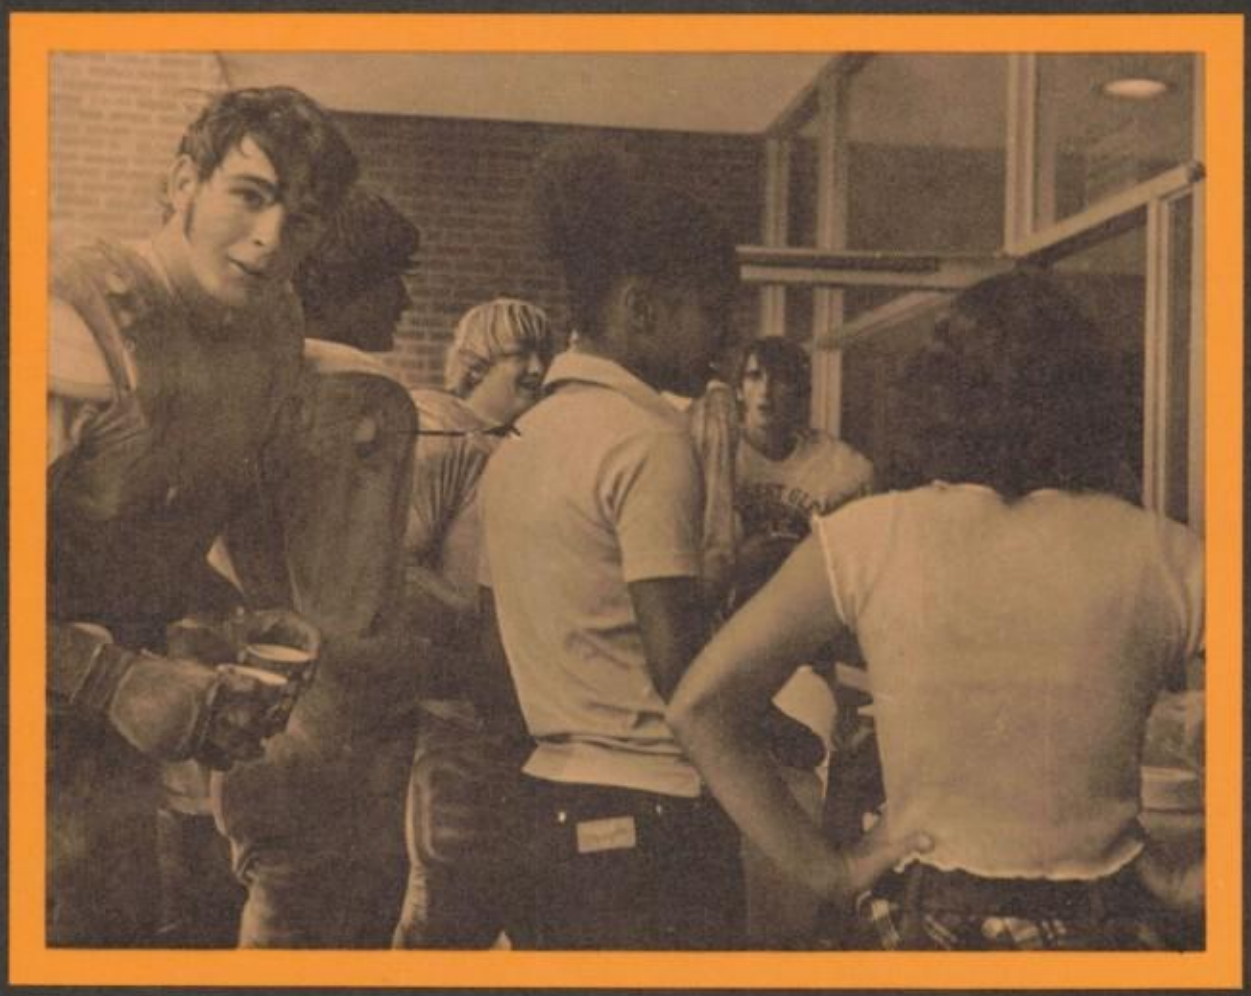


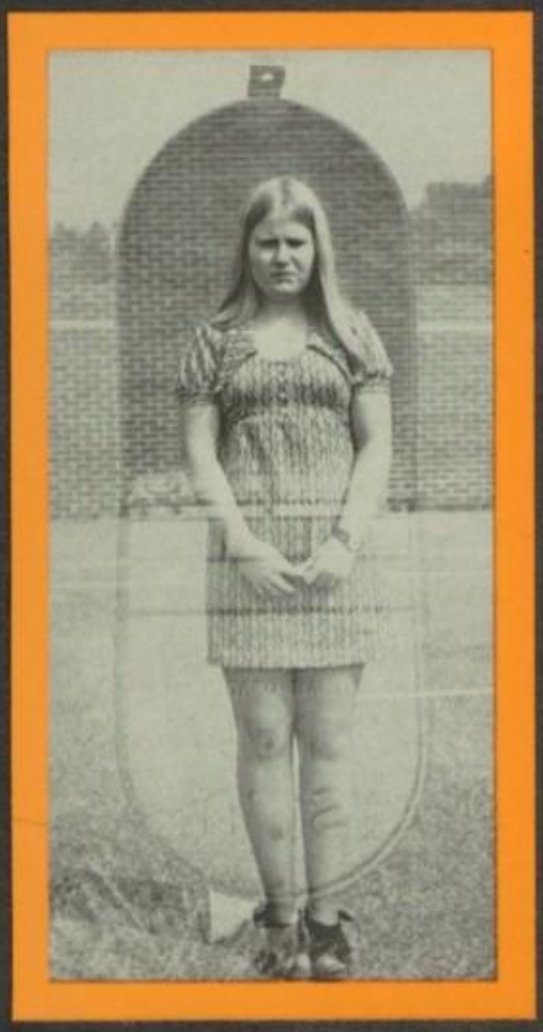
Exercise caution in your business affairs;
for the world is full of trickery.

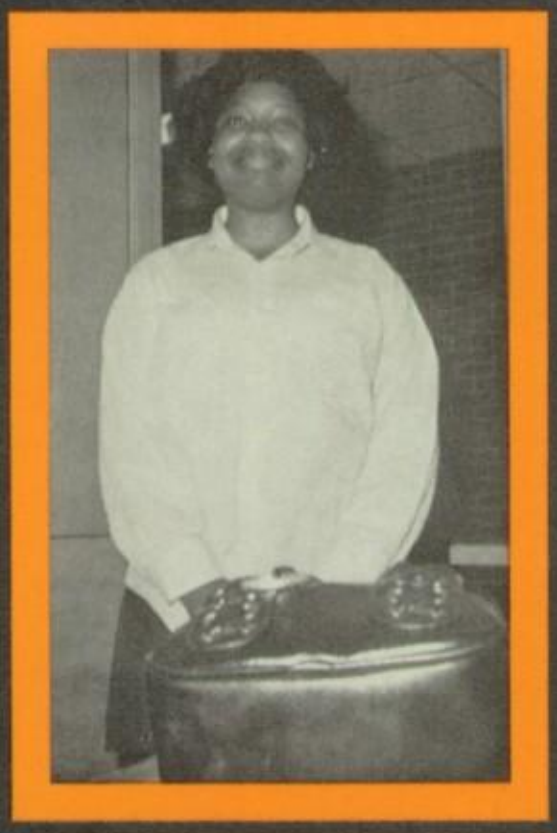


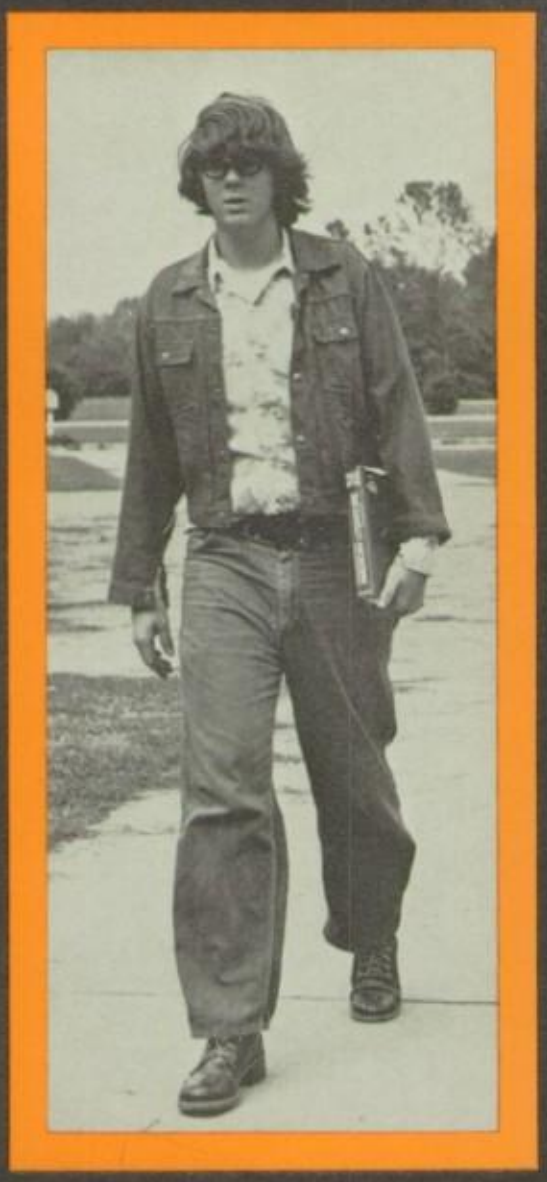
But let this not blind you to what virtue there is; many persons strive for high ideals; and everywhere life is full of heroism.



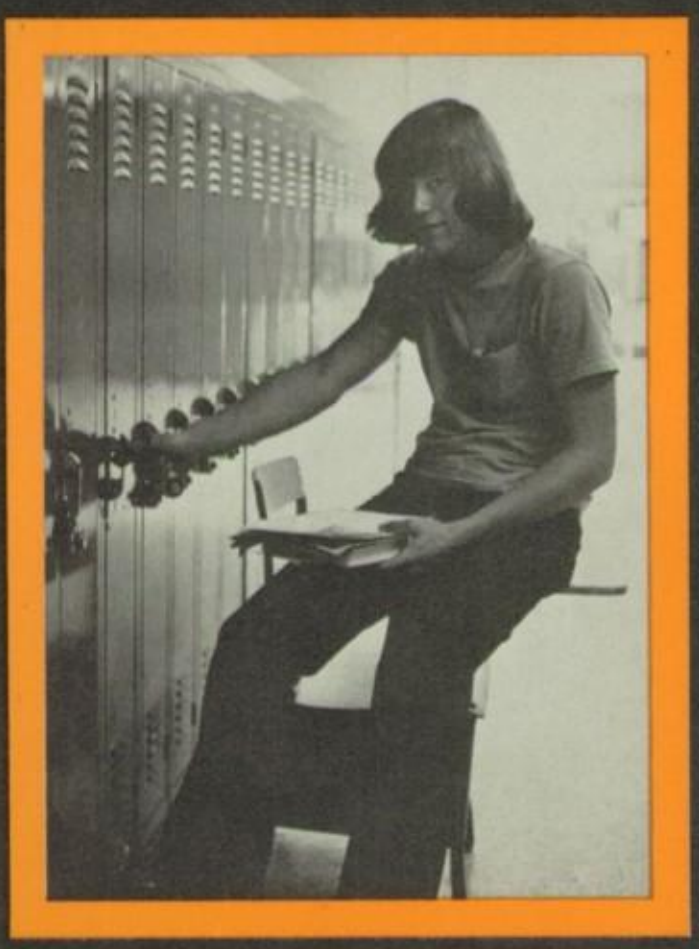


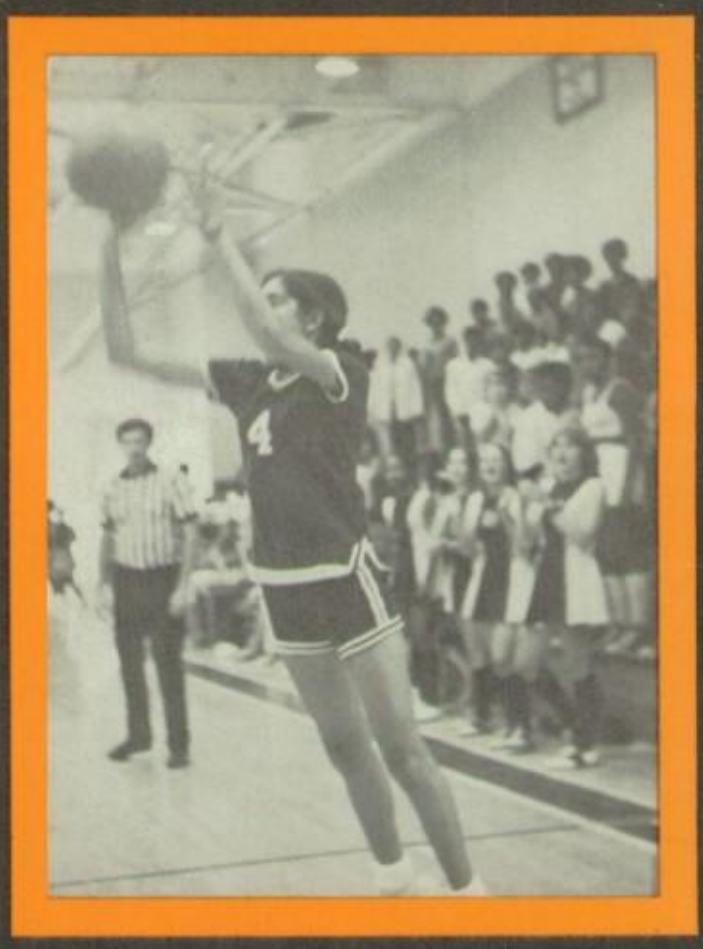




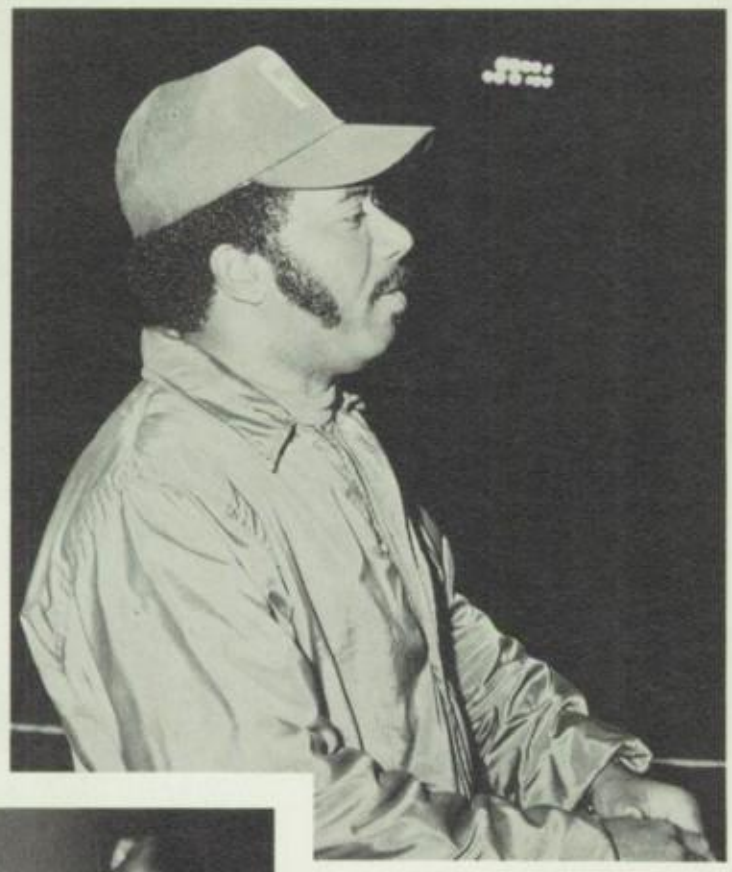


Be yourself.





Inspiration . . .



To many these pictures are simply of everyday people. But to us here at Forest Glen they are not just people. They are our teachers, our administration, and our inspiration. They offer us strength, encouragement, and most of all friendship. Thanks to this group of individuals, we are able to look toward the future with great expectations of success.

Liberation . . .

This is my creed—
to do the best I can,
To strive to make each day be worth the living,
To counsel and to help my fellow man,
To be both understanding and forgiving.

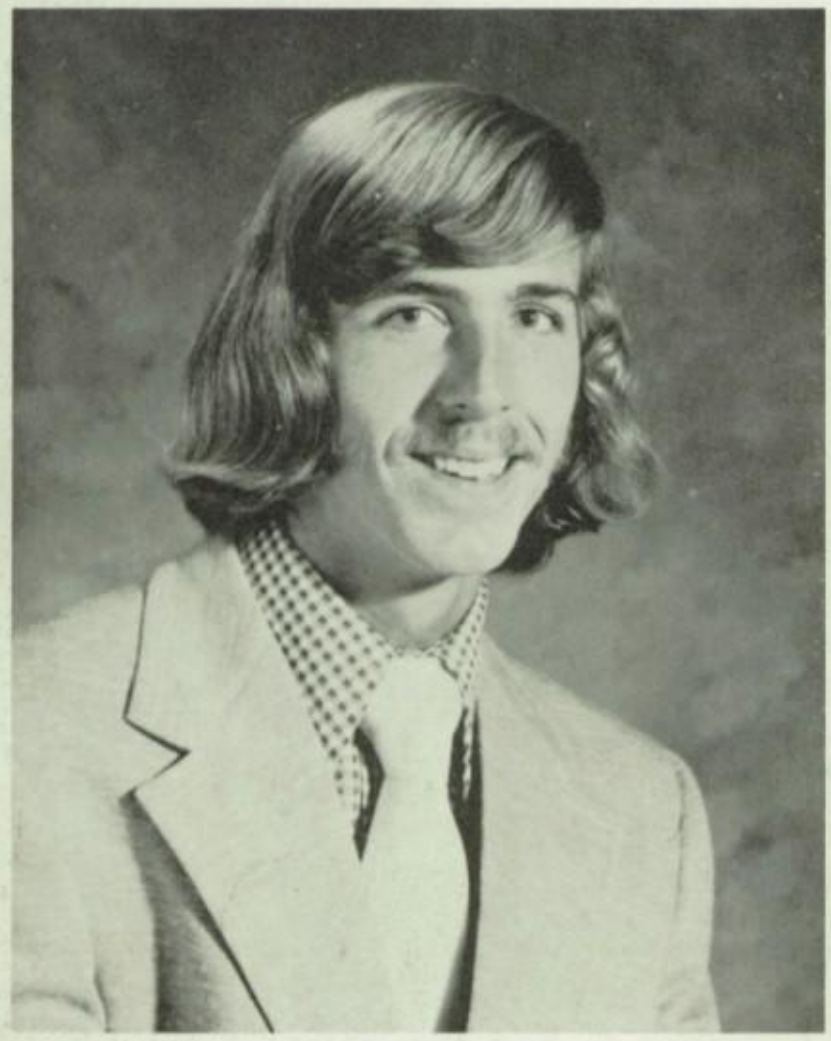
This is my creed—
to do what's right, not wrong,
To know that pleasure can be mixed with duty,
To replace all earthly discord with a song,
And hypocrisy of soul with truth and beauty.

This is my creed—
to give my all each day
As though there were no possible tomorrow,
To use my joy to brighten someone's way—
My happiness, to ease another's sorrow.

This is my creed—
to be, at set of sun—
When the last light of the day is put to rest—
Contented with the things that I have done,
And to know, deep in my heart, I've done my best.

Phyllis Culp Mabry

In Memory of Harry Wilson Ellis



Seventeen and eight months his years they were dated,
A student at Forest Glen, an athlete-high he was rated.
No more will he see the grass, the stars, the sun,
But really, my friend, a new life has just begun.
His left arm threw passes straight and long,
And his hard, quick fastball was never wrong.
He was a king in his time and loved by all,
And he shot like a pro, a basketball.
The tears of his buddies, the tears of his friends,
All asking themselves, why must it all end?
My question, dear Lord, is asking you, "Why?
Why must it be him, the one to die?"
If I could, I would be glad to lie in his place,
For he had a much better future with all of his grace.
Through the heat of August, and the chill of December,
My friend, HARRY ELLIS, I will always remember.

"Nobody knows when the journey starts
What he'll find along the way —
A storm-tossed sea, a thicket of thorns
Or a quiet, peaceful bay . . .
Nobody knows when the journey starts
If he will travel alone
Or in the company of cherished friends
That he can call his own . . .

There is no map for the journey
To guide our footsteps along
Only our youth, our faith in ourselves
And our courage to keep us strong . . .
For youth is the time of hopes and dreams
When life's journey is only begun
Till the hills and the valleys are safely crossed
And the summit is finally won."

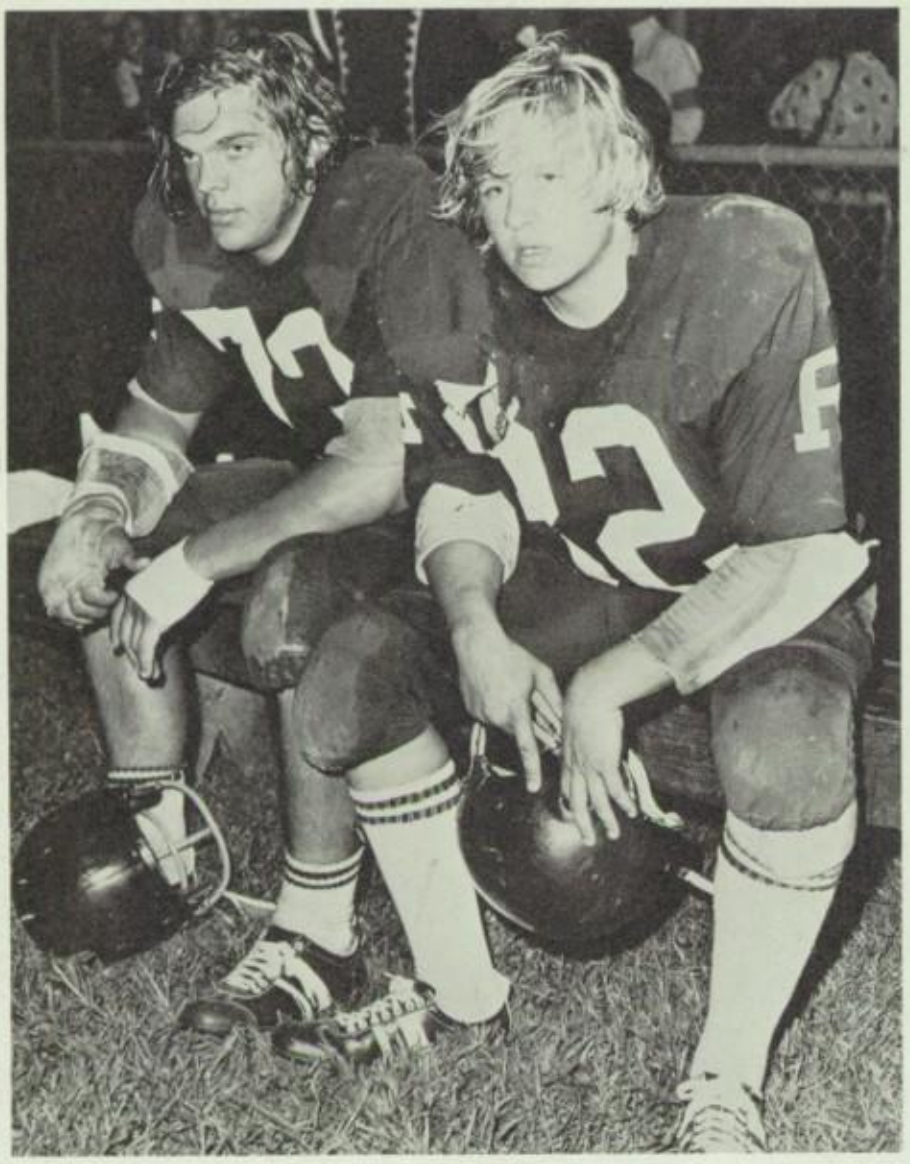
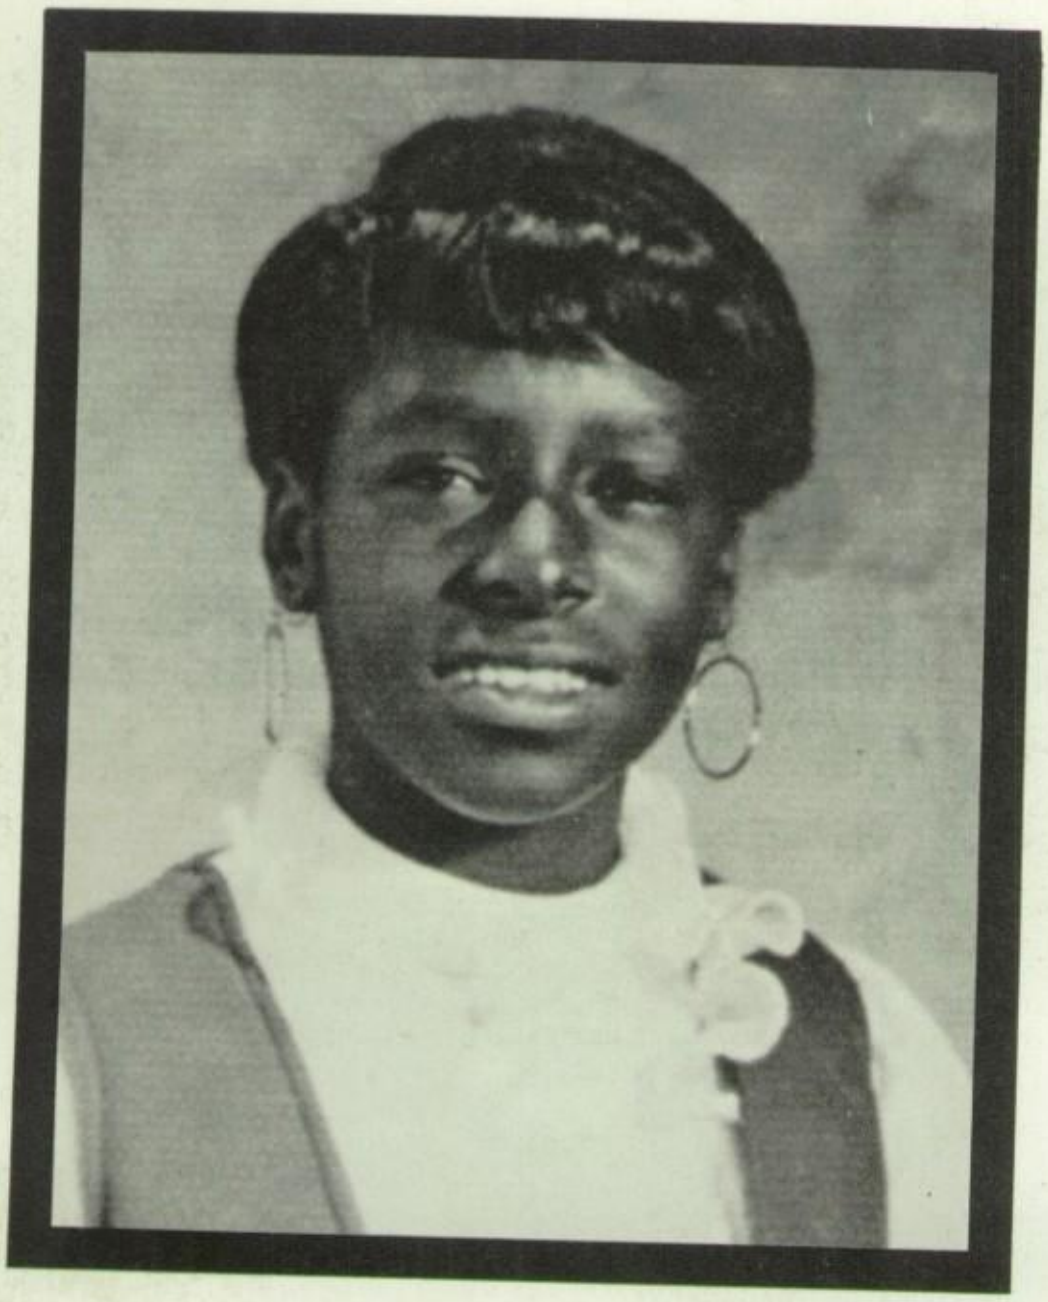
Preparation . . .



is something students at Forest Glen must go through to achieve what sometimes seems like an impossible goal, their high school diploma. Sure, it's hard work, but we must admit it is worth it all. Preparation involves staying up until two in the morning doing what they call an hour's homework, enjoying a school dance, crying over a lost one, bad grades, and individual problems, talking it over with a friend, sweating it out at practice while the others are messing around, staying after school for many hours trying to meet Annual deadlines, and giving of yourself to others. The years of preparation are difficult ones, but I wouldn't trade them for anything. In the long run, both the joys and the sorrows of preparing yourself for your individual goal will be worth every minute of it.

In Memory of Mamie Louise Artis



Mamie Louise Artis was a student and a friend to many here at Forest Glen. She was one of those people who you heard very little about, but who contributed a great deal to the student life at our school. Many of her activities centered around the DECA Club of which she was an active member. Mamie was taken ill in November of 1972 and died the evening of March 30, 1973. We grieve her passing, but should try to remember the enthusiasm she displayed in life and strive to follow her example.

I dream a world where man
No other will scorn,
Where love will bless the earth
And peace its paths adorn.
I dream a world where all
Will know sweet freedom's way,
Where greed no longer saps the soul
Nor avarice blights day.
A world I dream where black or white,
Whatever race you be,
Will share the bounties of the earth
and every man is free,
Where wretchedness will hang its head,
And joy, like a pearl,
Attend the needs of all mankind.
Of such a dream —
Our world!

"I will not follow where the path may lead, but I will go where there is no path, and I will leave a trail."

Muriel Strode

Participation . . .

We come to school because we must, we study that we might complete our grade, but we participate in school activities because we want to. School and club activities tend to encourage the student to explore new fields, to make new friends, and to strive to better himself and those around him. Participation is the key to a successful learning experience. It is actually a predominating factor in the learning process: to apply what one learns in preparing for the future. The clubs here at Forest Glen strive to instill in the individual the necessity of education, its practicality, and the many opportunities it offers us for the future. We study, we learn, we participate, and we look forward with great expectations.

Where IS that picture?

They do work on the annual once in a while!!

She holds the key to the annual's success (and to the bookstore)!

Selling's her game, collecting's her aim!

It is with a great deal of pride that we the annual staff of the 1974 edition of the FORESTER present this yearbook to the student body of Forest Glen High School. For us the year has been one of late deadlines, long weekends, and hopeful expectations. We have learned a great deal, not only about editing an annual, but also about the students and faculty at Forest Glen. Forest Glen is a great school, and we are proud to have had a part in preserving its history for its student body.

The Forest Glen chapter of the National Beta Club has the sole responsibility of publishing the school yearbook, The FORESTER. This project is one which occupies much of the club's time during the year. The club does, however, participate in other community and school projects. Highlighting the year for many Beta Club members is the State Beta Convention in Roanoke, Virginia. The club also offers a scholarship to a deserving Beta Club senior at the end of the school year.

Even though attendance and participation have been minimal, the SCA is one of the most active organizations of the school. The Student Cooperative Association guided Forest Glen through another year of successfully sponsored events: Back-to-School Dance, Homecoming Week and Dance, contributions to CHEER FUND, sponsoring a foster child, and a spirit building car bash for a basketball game. President Lloyd Boykin has said of the year: "The future of the world is invested in us, the young. Through our efforts here at FGH we have begun to invest in that future. With a people such as we have here the future of FGH and the U.S. looks bright indeed." Other officers are: Vice-Pres.: Karen Canipe, Secretary: Ann Dalton, Treasurer: Valerie Boykin, and Historian: Laura West.

THE RANGER

Vol. II No. 1 | Forest Glen High School | Fall 1973

Co-Editors: Karen Canipe & Sandra Copeland; Jr. Editor: Wanda Eley; Soph. Editor: David Koren; Fresh. Editor: Merritt Draper; Thetamore Editors: Dennis Hawkins & Frances Simmons. Sponsor: Mrs. Wellons.

The 1973-74 Ranger is our first school newspaper with pictures and professional type. Published four times a year, the RANGER contains news about important school-related problems. The staff interviews and writes the articles for each edition. Then the articles are typed and sent to press under the supervision of The Tidewater News. The Distributive Education Club is in charge of the advertising. By touring a local newspaper's facilities, the staff was able to understand the printing process. With such enormous progress over previous publications, the RANGER looks forward to even more success in the future.

The French Club of 1973-74, consisting of about 45 members, held its initiation for new members on December 4, 1973. Both the French club members and the ones being initiated, dressed as "French Babies", truly enjoyed this initiation. This year the French Club voted to make the Foreign Language Ball an annual affair. This year will make the third year of its existance. The club also helped with the language float in the Christmas parade. This was a joint project for the language clubs of Forest Glen, Kennedy, John Yeats, and Suffolk High Schools. This year's French Club is really on the ball!

While in Spain, club members find out how little Spanish they really know.

After students successfully complete their first semester of Spanish at Forest Glen, they are eligible for membership in La Sociedad Hispanica. La Sociedad is principally a social organization. This year, along with other area high schools and foreign language clubs from Forest Glen, La Sociedad Hispanica sponsored a float in the Suffolk-Nansemond Jaycees Christmas parade. Joanne Jones represented La Sociedad by riding on the float. The club also held a Christmas party at the home of Bobby Froemel, at which members ate supper and viewed films taken in Spain when twelve members of the club spent their spring vacation there last year. Officers are: Sr. Bull, patrocinador; Rosita Canipe, presidente; Ana Dalton, vice presidenta; Bonita West, secretaria; Belita Keen, tesorera.

The Future Teachers of America, a small but active club, has much enthusiasm. Along with their sponsors, Margaret Felton and Mary Arthur, they went on a field trip to Idlewood School for Retarded Children in Suffolk. They also made charts for the teachers at Idlewood School and helped do odd jobs, such as raking the yard. The FTA raised money by selling candy in the late fall and spring. They also gave the teachers a reception. They made Christmas stockings for pre-school age children at Idlewood School. The FTA will also give a $100.00 scholarship to a deserving senior in the club who plans to pursue the career of teaching. FTA officers are: Pres.: RITA ELLIS, V. The FFA took a running start at the year with three members attending the State Convention at V.P.I. in June. The officers met later in the summer to discuss various committees they planned to set up. As the school started they all pitched in and the committees were organized. Two weeks before Christmas the members spent six days selling oranges and other citrus fruits. In those six days they sold over seven hundred cases. This helped build up the treasury which has enabled the club to participate in community service projects. Another planned event is a Parent-Son Banquet. At present the club has three officers at Federation level — Vice President, Parliamentarian, and Treasurer. One of the main purposes of the club is to develop leadership.

Distributive Education Club

The Forest Glen Chapter of the DECA Club has conducted many projects during the year including a sales project to raise money for an officers' installation dinner and a Harvest Days sales and promotion project in cooperation with the merchants of the Plaza. The latter project had two themes. The Great Pumpkin was on hand to entertain the children and a UFO was built to attract attention. Lowe's of Suffolk once again provided building materials and transportation for the booth. This year the Chapter agreed to finance the school newspaper (the Ranger) by selling advertisements to local merchants. The Chapter is also buying a typesetter which will enable the newspaper staff to set their own copy which will cut production cost by two-thirds. Hopeful future activities include an Employer-Employee Banquet, a party, attending the District Leadership Conference, and the State Leadership Conference. Last year the Chapter brought home seven trophies from District, more than any other Chapter of the same size. This year, the new members of the Chapter won the honor of being the most active. Terrel Faulk won the honor of becoming the first member to set a new sales record. Garvin Holland will be remembered for bringing in the first paid ad for the Ranger. The following members have been able to reach the Executive Sales Club level: Terrel Faulk, Joan Ashley, Chuck Barbour, and Jerry Clark.

The Industrial Arts Club of Forest Glen High School was formed in 1970 under the direction of John Monroe and Robert O'Keeffe. The purpose of the club is "to create more interest in industrial arts at the program level." The club quickly achieved state wide fame by having Walter Worrell elected first state president. The club is also the second club in the state to have had 100% membership in the American Industrial Arts Student Association. The club has donated to Rescue Squad and Cheer Fund drives. They have also taken trips to the Virginia State Highway Department, Old Dominion University, and Paul D. Camp Community College.

The Art Club got off to a slow start this year due to its sponsors' involvement in coaching football. They sold candy during the months of November and December to fatten their treasury for the new semester. Art Club members also made decorations for the halls at Christmastime and sold candy apples to help the holiday spirit along. Plans for the spring semester include a club-sponsored student art show, taking Easter baskets as gifts to the children at Obici Hospital, a Spring dance, and an award to the outstanding student artist at Forest Glen for 1973-74. The feature activity of the club in 1974 should be a trip to one of the Art Museums in either Richmond or Norfolk to view outstanding works by local, national, and international artists.

Imagination . . .

is that great power of the mind which is able to create ideas and images. We here at Forest Glen all have this ability — to imagine . . . that's what makes our school have its own special meaning. Each year is different from the past year, and each day is different from the next. Every student is a special individual; no two people at Forest Glen are alike. The more a person contributes and helps the school, outside of his own required activities, the better and more spirited Forest Glen will be.

For Us

"Gonna take a sentimental journey, To renew old memories."

A time for us some day there'll be, when chains are torn by courage born of a love that's free.
A time when dreams so long denied can flourish as we unveil the love we now must hide.
A time for us at last to see a life worthwhile for you and me.

And with our love through tears and thorns we will endure as we pass surely through every storm.
A time for us there'll someday be a new world, a world of shining hope for you and me.

A time for us at last to see a life worthwhile for you and me.
And with our love through tears and thorns we will endure as we pass surely through every storm.
A time for us someday there'll be a new world, a world of shining hope for you and me.

Competition . . .

is an effort a few at Forest Glen make to obtain something wanted by others. When we compete with other schools, whether it be in football, basketball, baseball, track, or golf, we are not only competing to win, but we are striving to prove ourselves as individuals and as a team. Sure, there are times when losing one game after another seems endless, but we learn through losing. No one could ever win if no one ever lost. It takes a lot more guts to be the defeated team than it takes to be the winning one. The times when we do win seem so wonderful; everyone is together in the idea that we are trying to win for our school. Those that do try and go out for sports are few, but those few are willing to give all they've got, even if all they've got never seems to make a win. After the long, hot summer football practices, the after-school basketball and baseball practices, and all the times when you think you cannot run another step are over, you will never regret them. We are proud to compete for such a school as Forest Glen, for we ARE Forest Glen. Years from now we will look back and realize that it was worth all the sweat. There is only one time in your life when you can participate in high school sports, for we will never pass this way again.

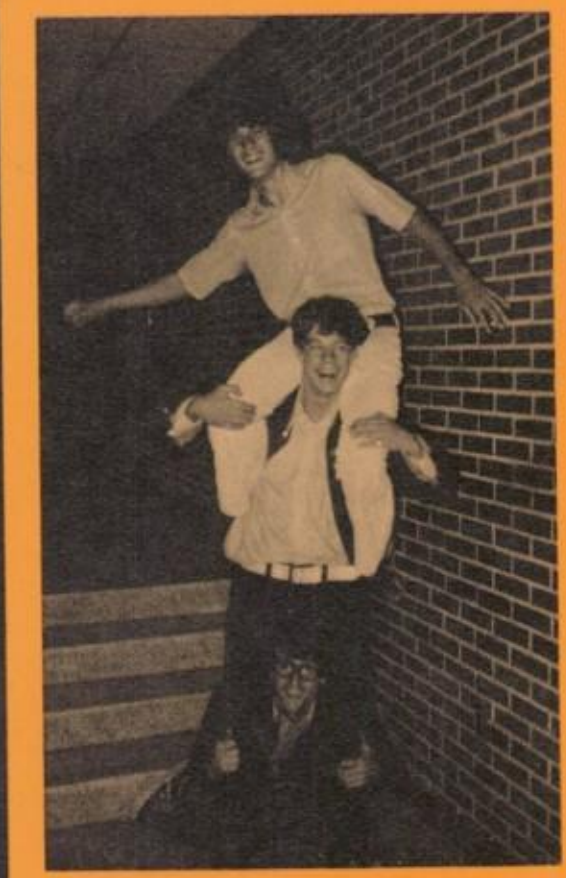
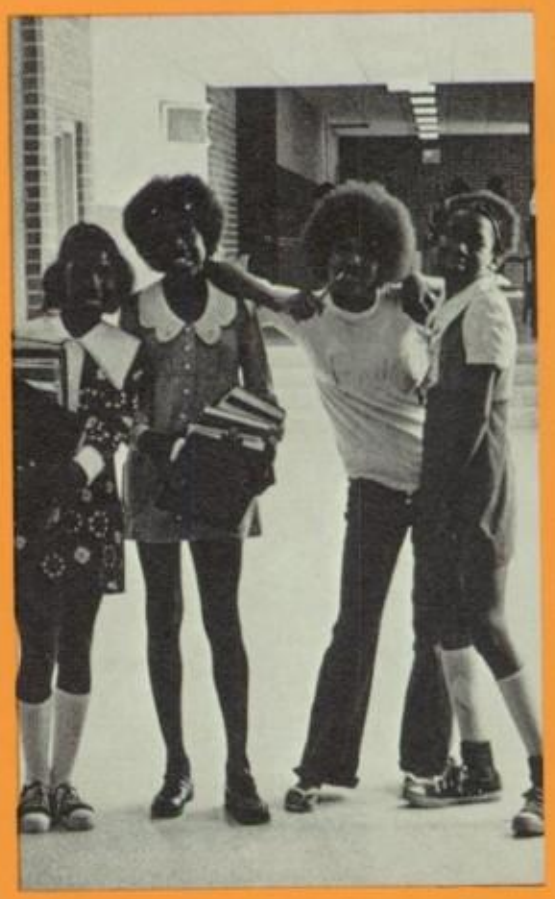
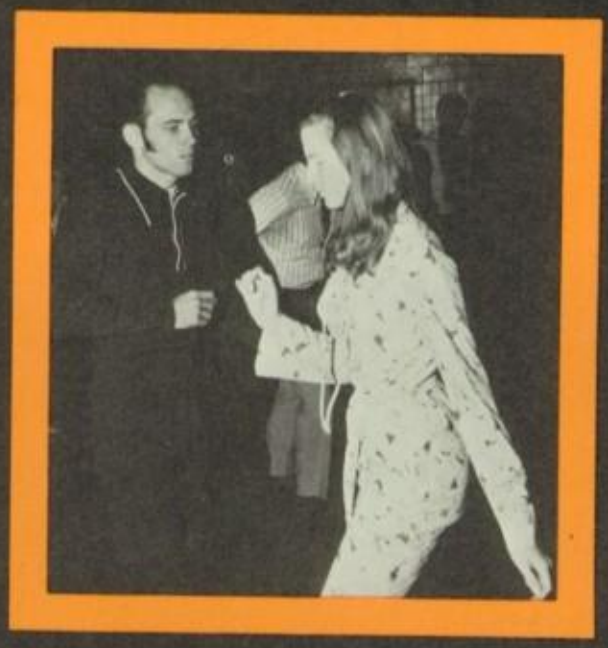
Be yourself.



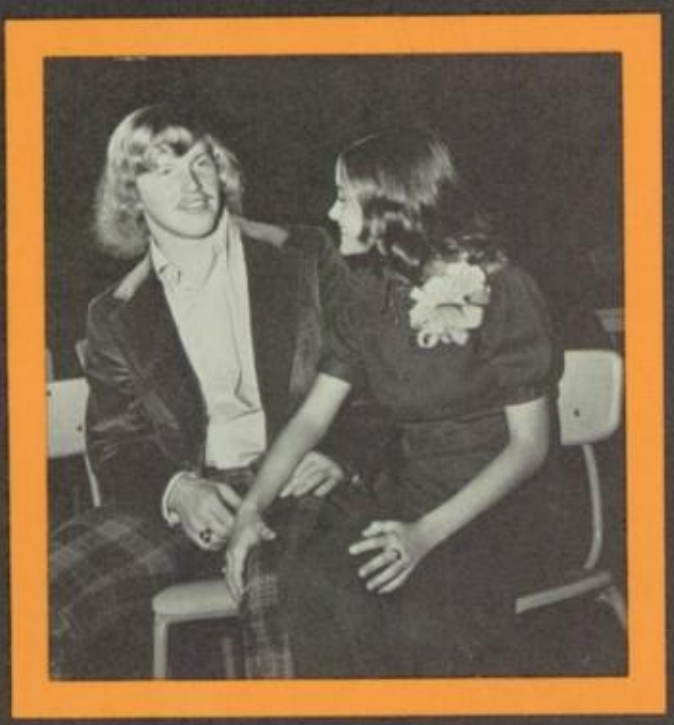


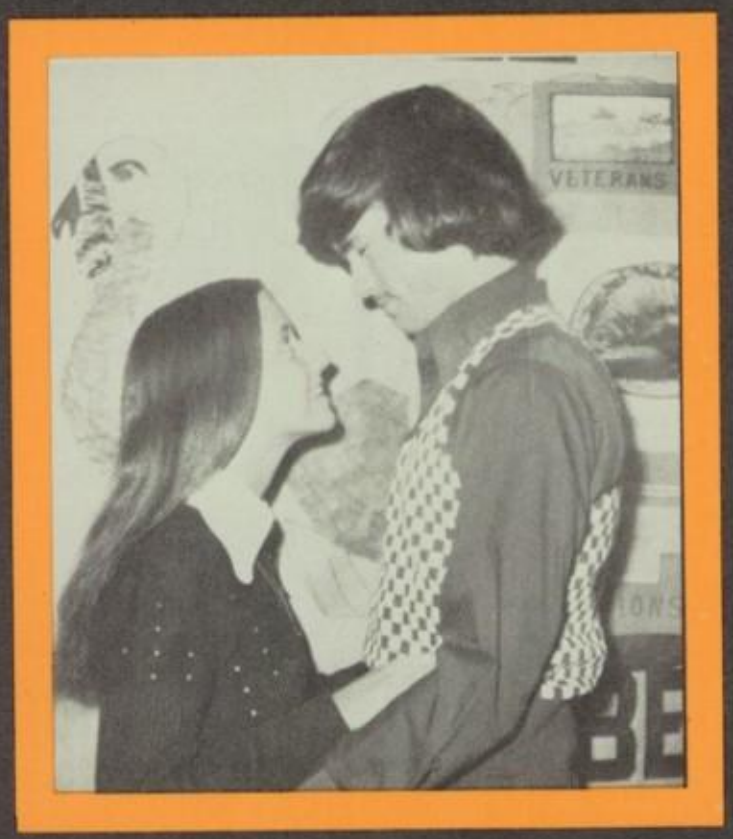
Especially do not feign affection.

Neither be cynical about love;



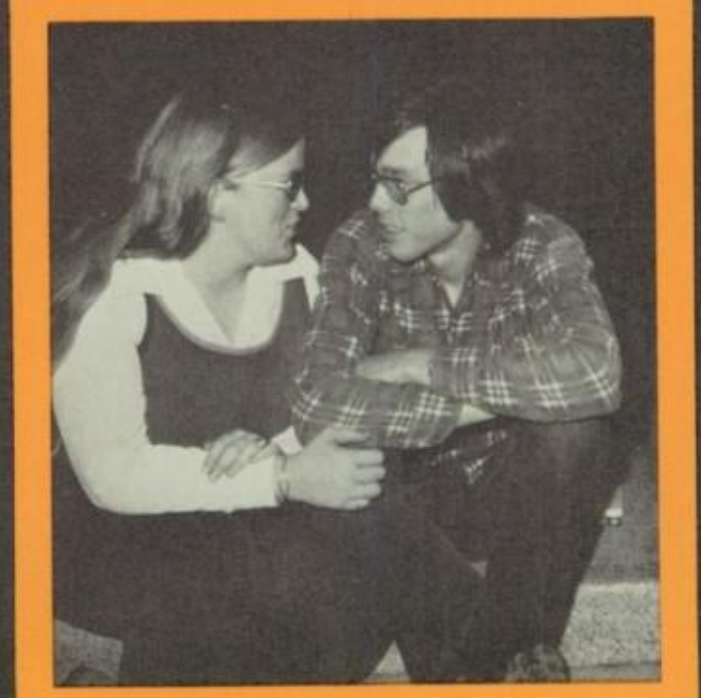
For in the face of all aridity and disenchantment it is perennial as the grass.



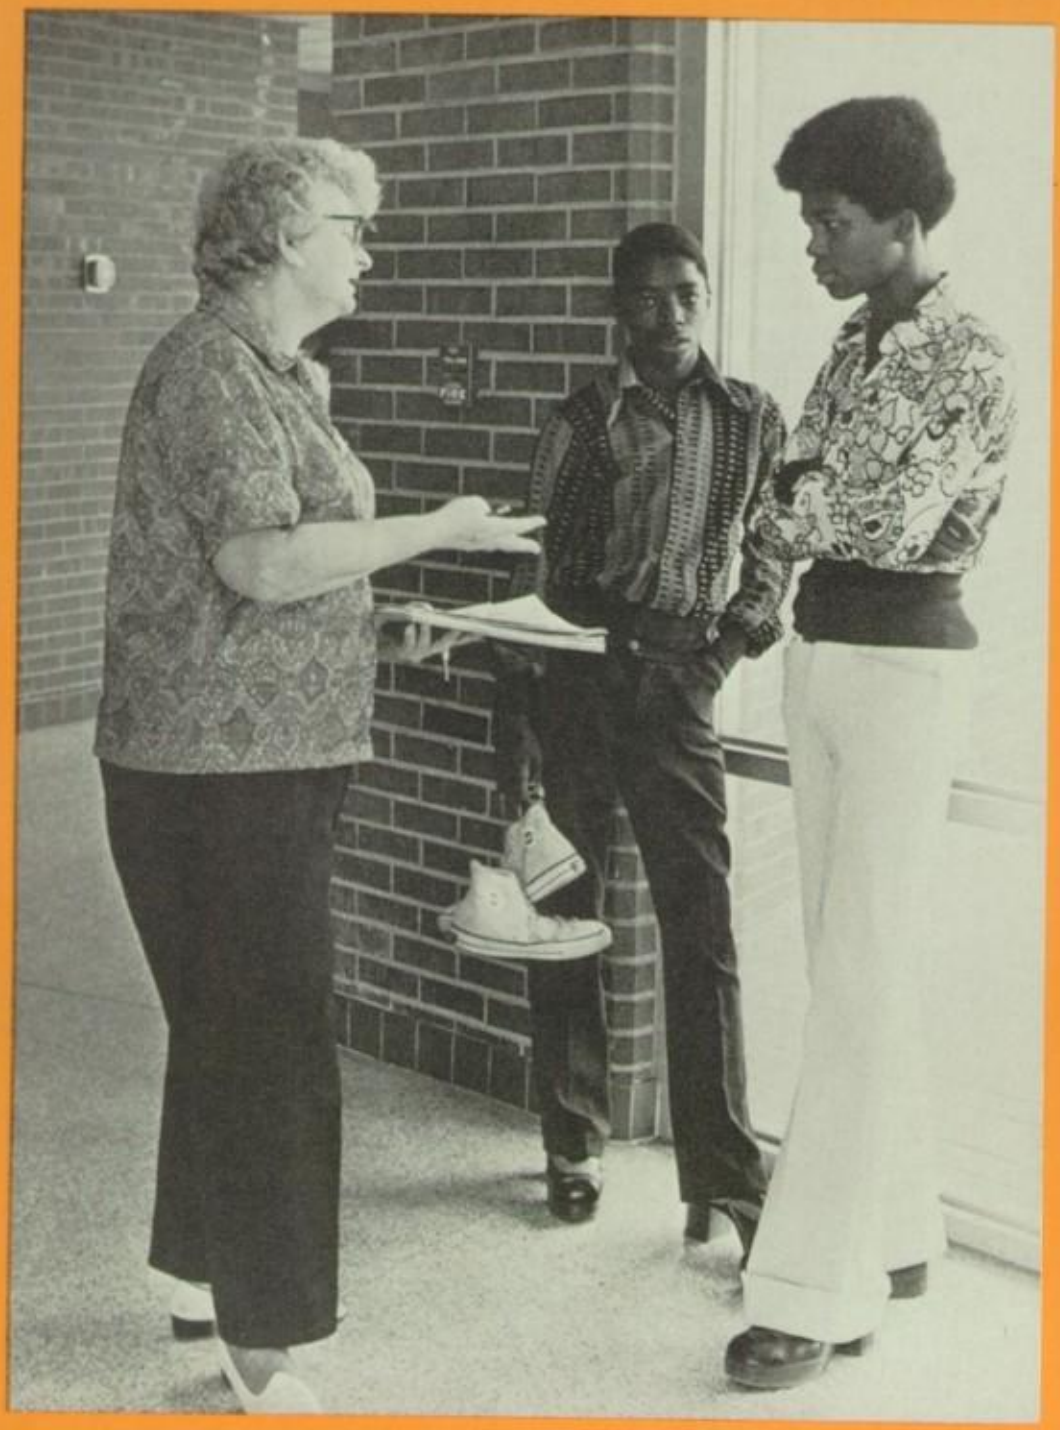


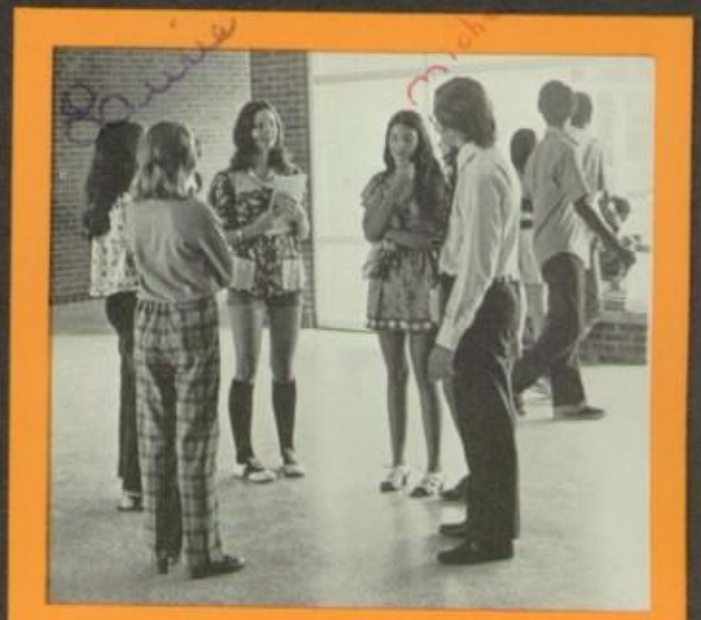
Love is the river of life in this world. Think not that ye know it who stand at the little tinkling rill, the first small fountain. Not until you have gone through the rocky gorges, and not lost the stream; not until you have gone through the meadow, and the stream has widened and deepened until fleets could ride on its bosom; not until beyond the meadow you have come to the unfathomable ocean, and poured your treasures into its depths — not until then can you know what love is.

—Henry Ward Beecher



Take kindly the counsel of the years,

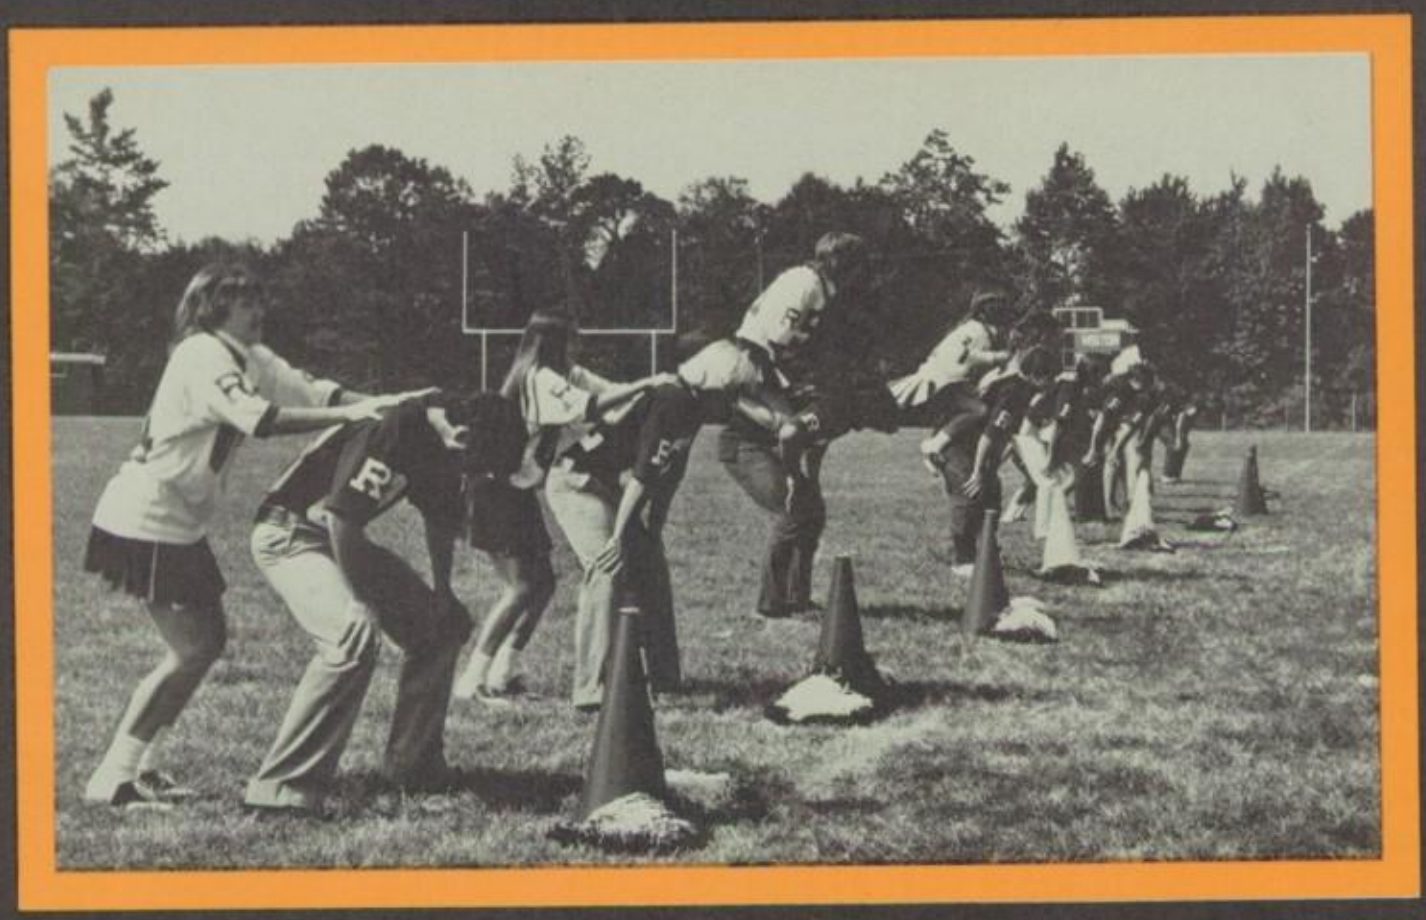


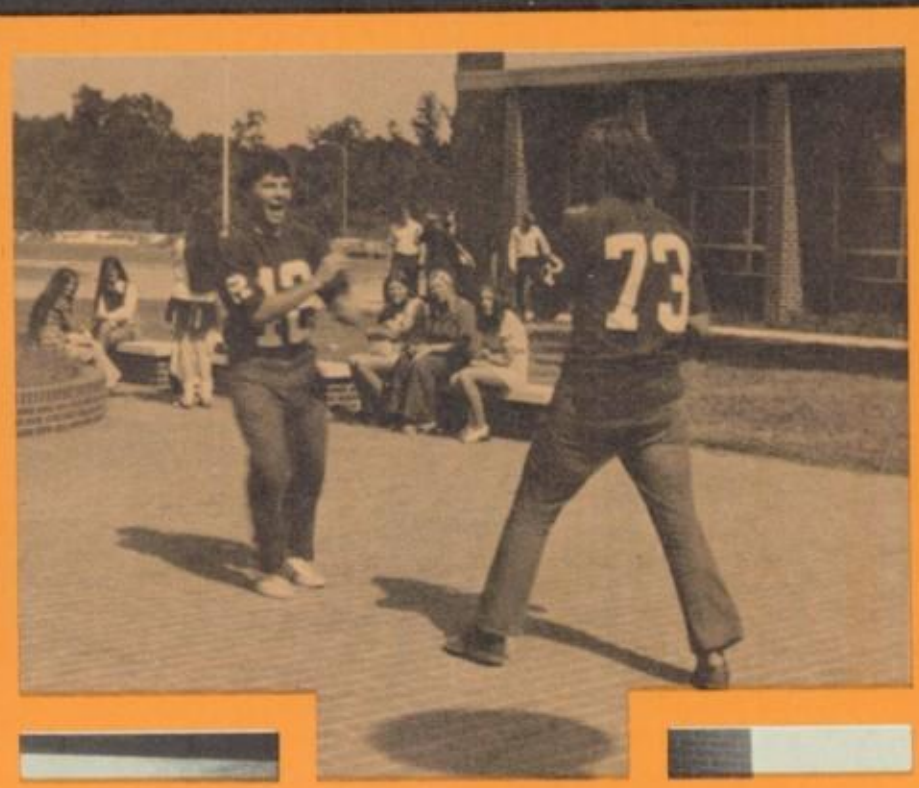


A father sees a son nearing manhood. What shall he tell that son? "Life is hard; be steel; be a rock." And this might stand him for the storms and serve him for humdrum and monotomy and guide him amid sudden betrayals and tighten him for slack moments. "Life is a soft loam; be gentle; go easy." And this too might serve him."

—Carl Sandburg

gracefully surrendering the things of youth.





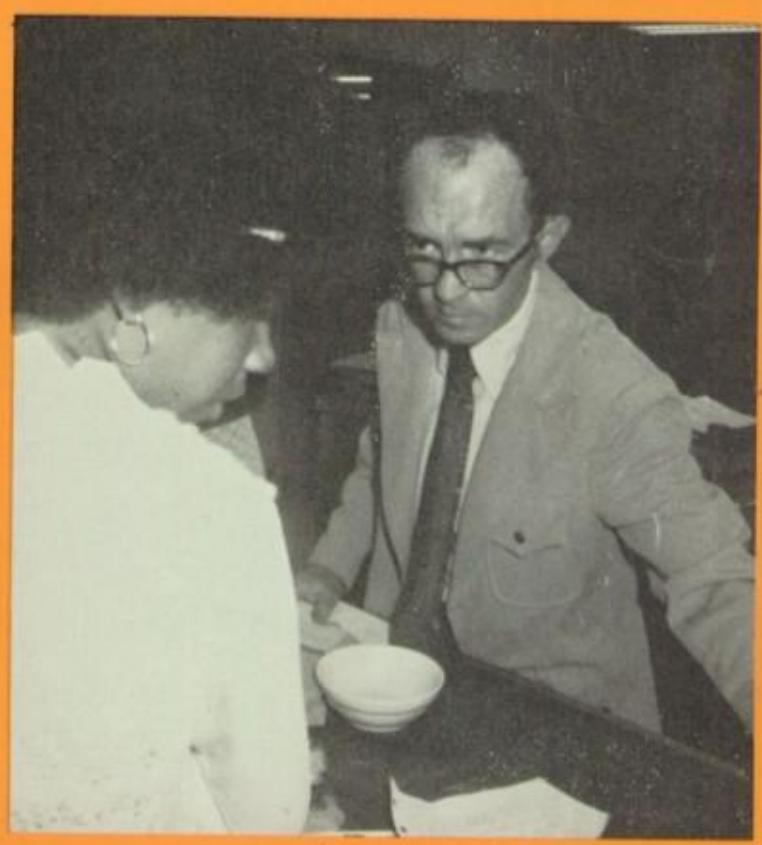
Nurture strength of spirit to shield you in sudden misfortune.

There is a very high quiet, far beyond the speed of sound, that invites each of us to find peace within ourselves. How diligently we search for it elsewhere, wishing for some sort of magic carpet to whisk us away to a peaceful place. And we often discover how short-lived is that magic.

Peace is not a forced habit, it is a relaxed practice. It is the knowledge beyond the thought that in this quiet moment I cannot turn the world around and yet in releasing the burden allow it to begin adjustments.

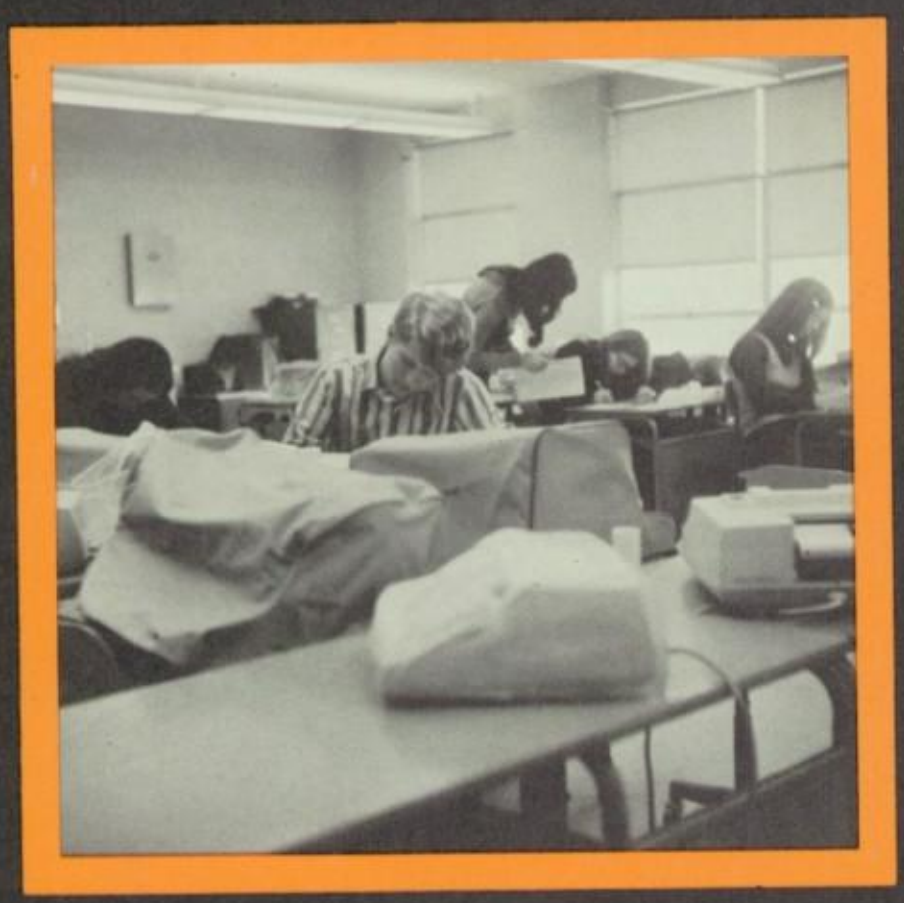
To rise above our emotions, to control and release the tension, will allow peace to flow to us. Sometimes when we cannot forcefully straighten out our lives we can take our hands off and allow it to improve naturally.

Joyce Hifler

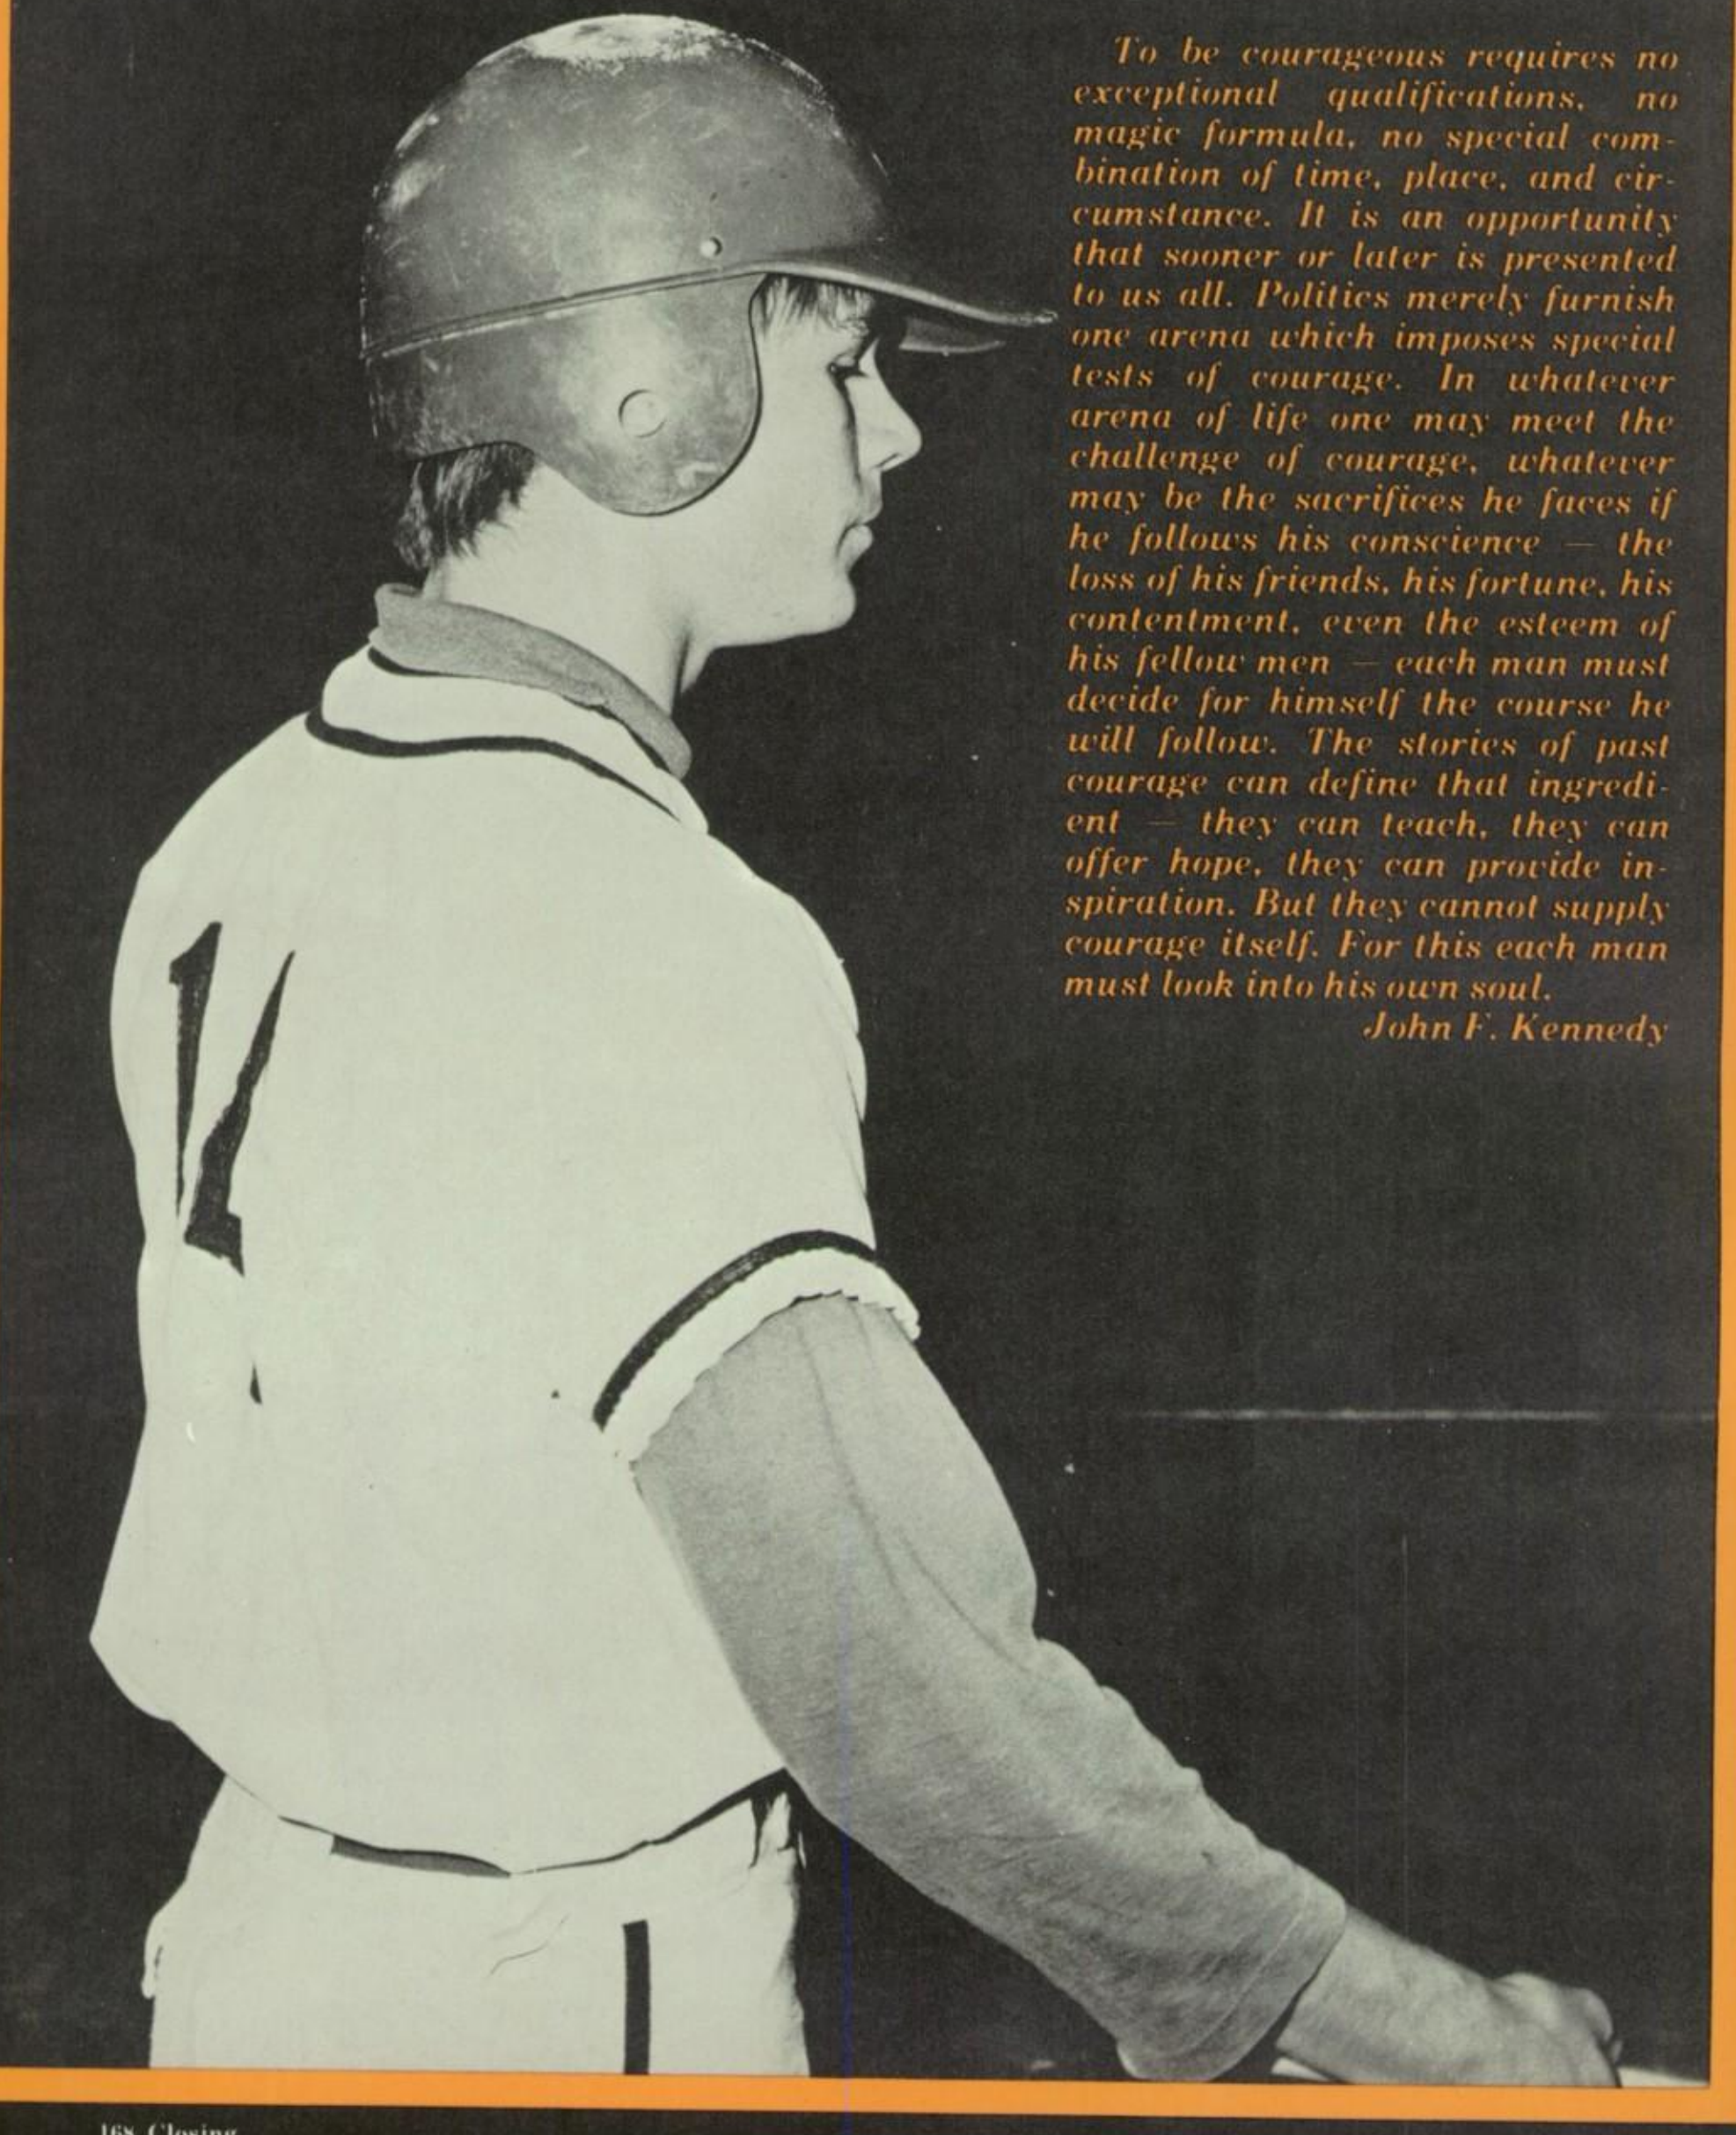


But do not distress yourself with imaginings.

Many fears are born of fatigue and loneliness.



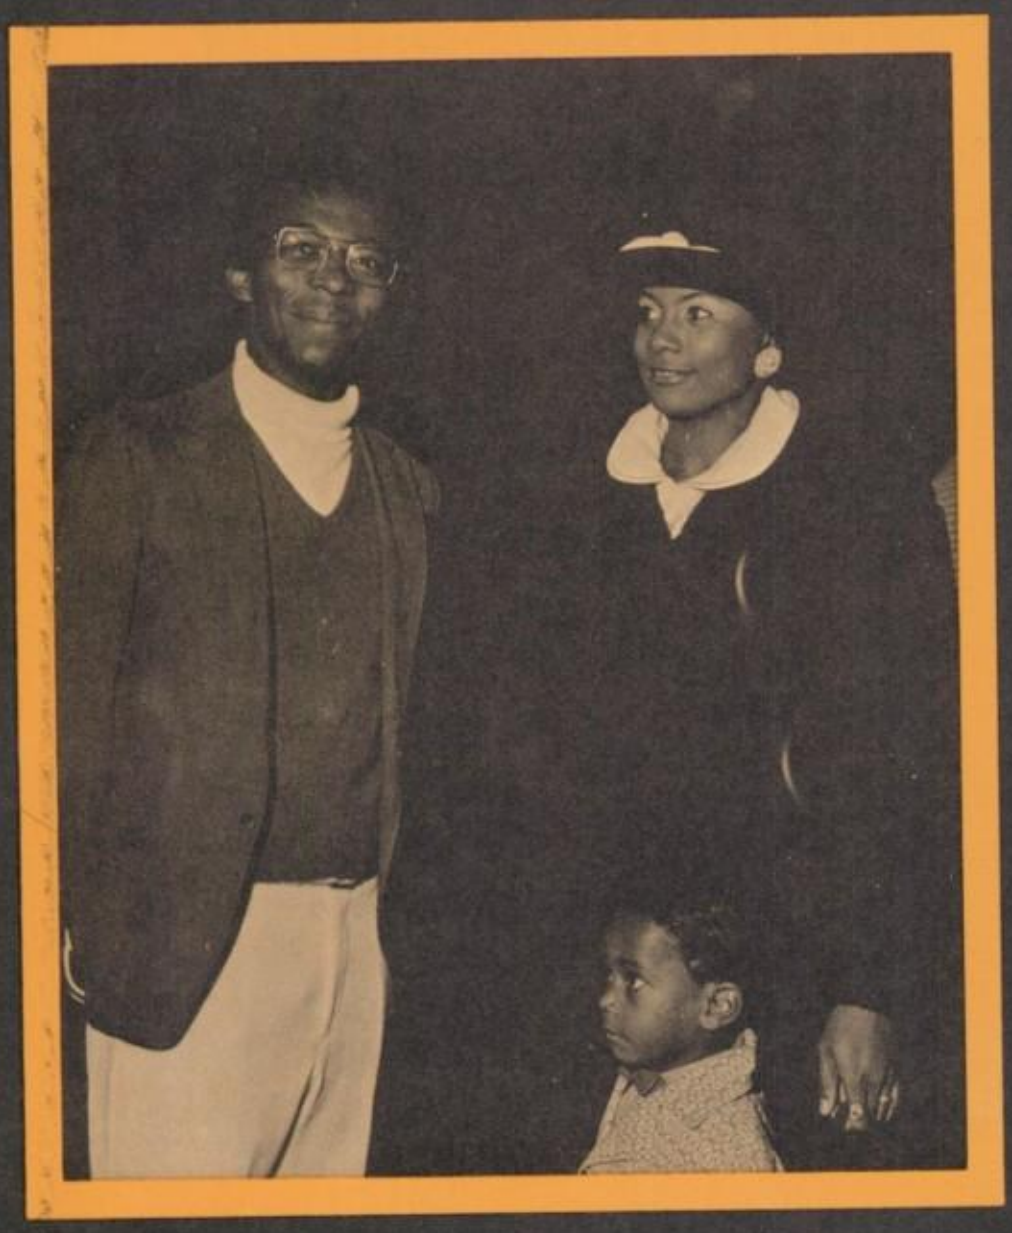
Beyond a wholesome discipline,



To be courageous requires no exceptional qualifications, no magic formula, no special combination of time, place, and circumstance. It is an opportunity that sooner or later is presented to us all. Politics merely furnish one arena which imposes special tests of courage. In whatever arena of life one may meet the challenge of courage, whatever may be the sacrifices he faces if he follows his conscience — the loss of his friends, his fortune, his contentment, even the esteem of his fellow men — each man must decide for himself the course he will follow. The stories of past courage can define that ingredient — they can teach, they can offer hope, they can provide inspiration. But they cannot supply courage itself. For this each man must look into his own soul.

John F. Kennedy

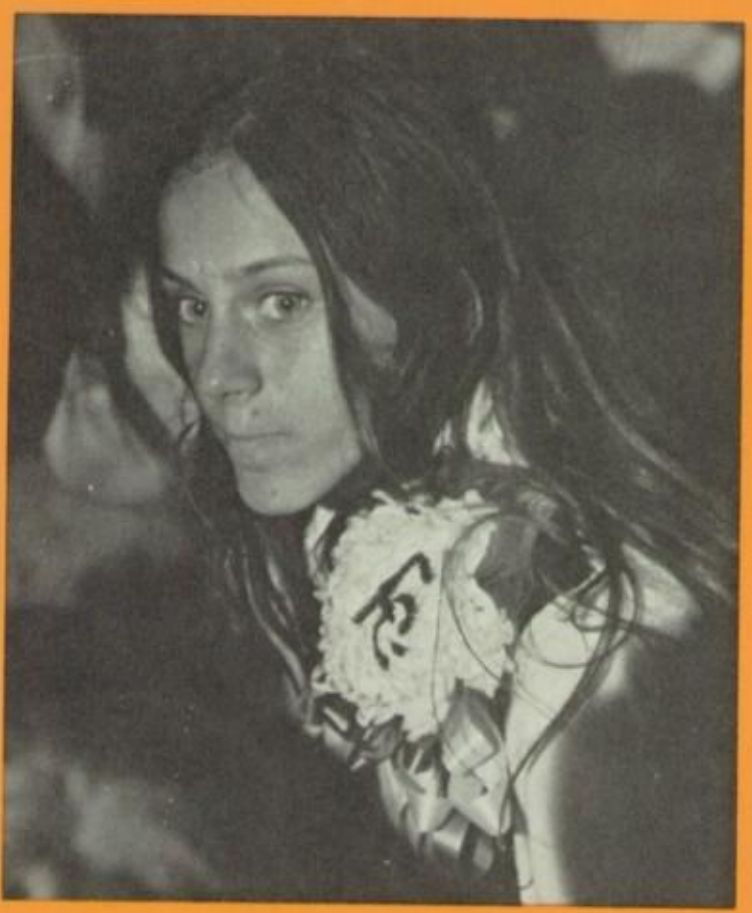
Be gentle with yourself.

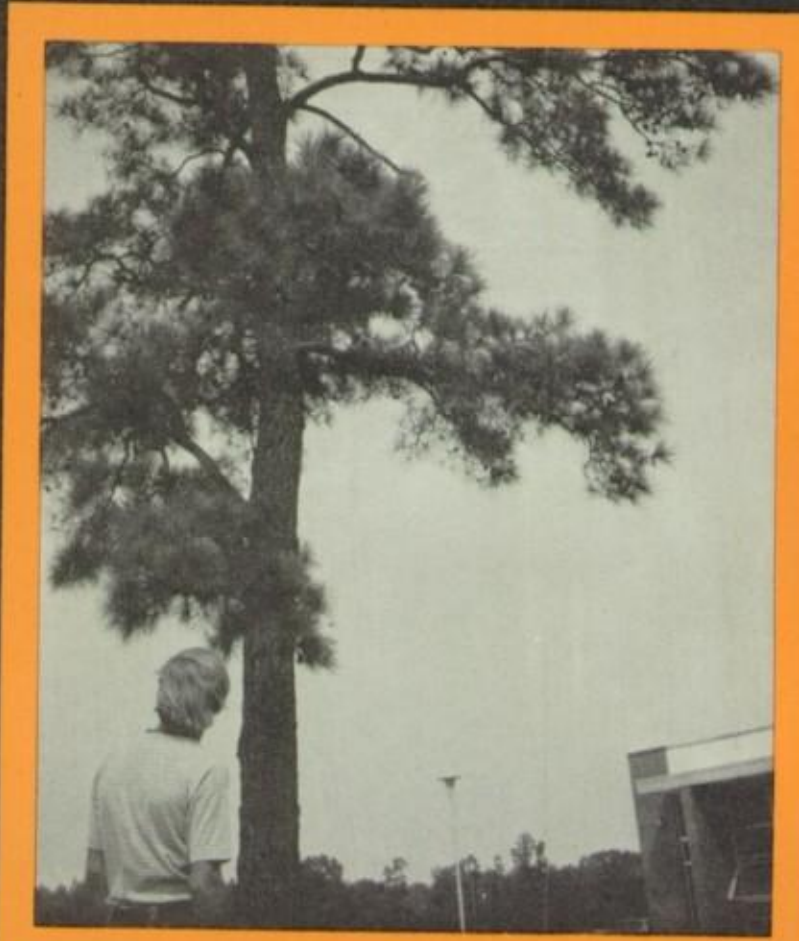


Truth is always in us. There is nothing new under the sun. All we have to do is learn how to handle what we already are . . .

Ruth Given Jacques

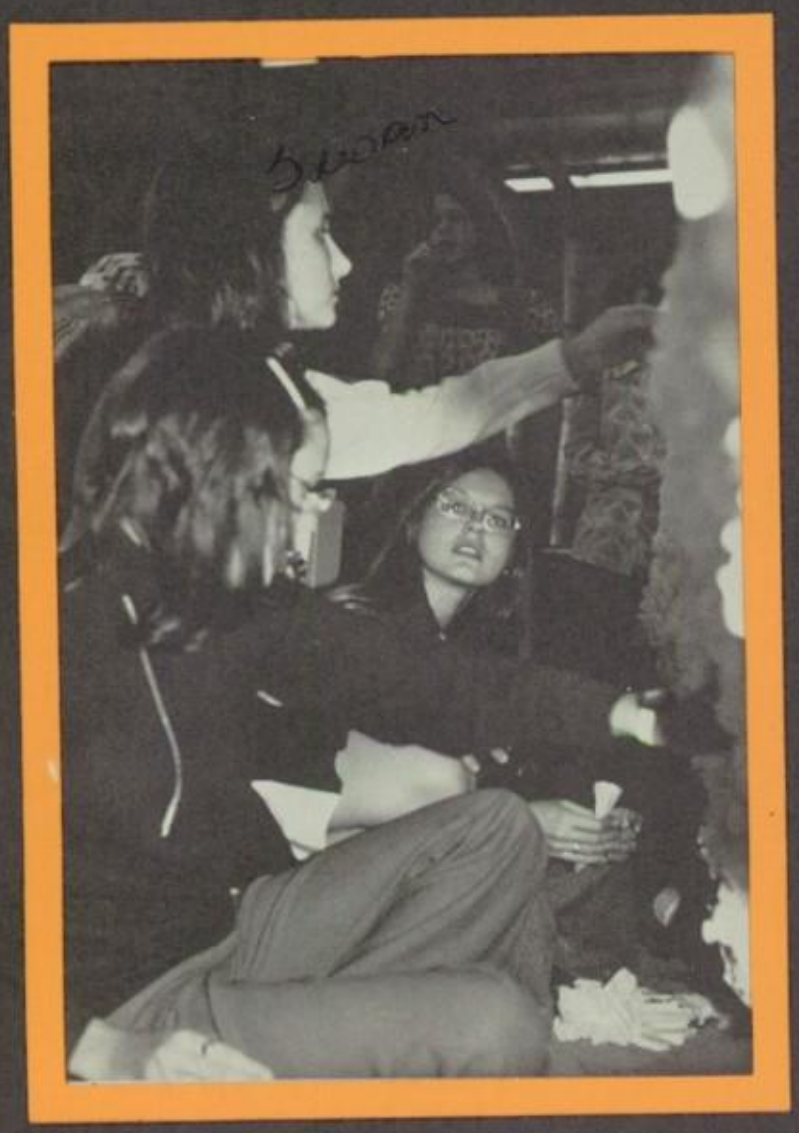
You are a child of the universe, no less than the trees and the stars;





you have a right to be here.

And whether or not it is clear to you, no doubt the universe is unfolding as it should.



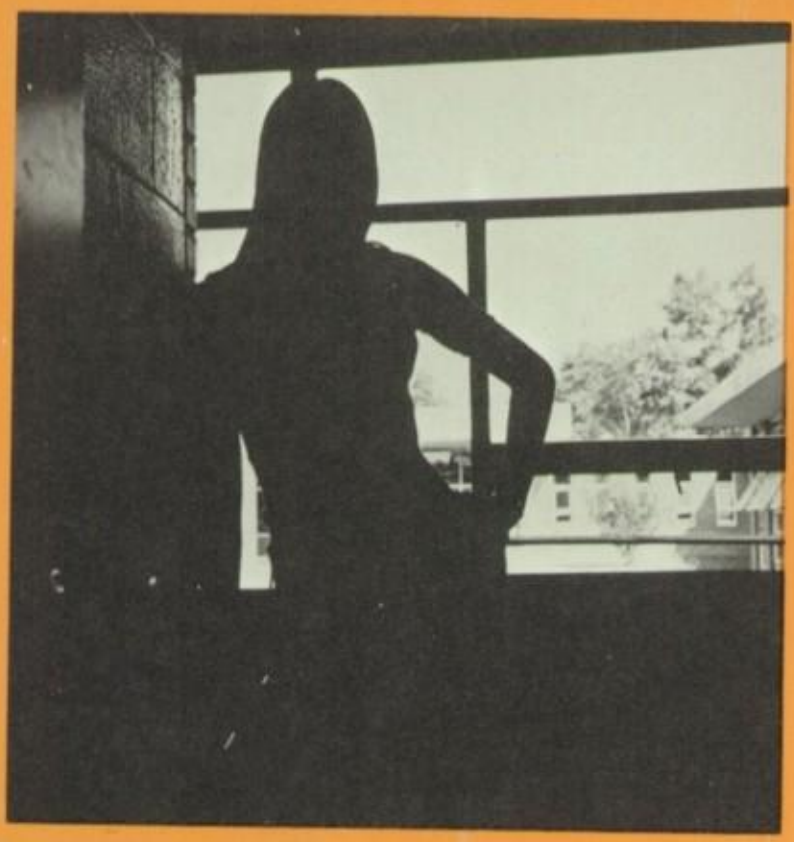
All of life travels on a cycle. We have the tendency to think "a beginning and an end," when it is "an end and a beginning."

When life closes one cycle it begins another. If we can take our attention away from everything that has passed, we can more easily see past the curve in the road ahead.

Life is never lived back there. Life is here. And as it is lived it moves on around the cycle requiring us to keep going — keep face forward — so as not to miss a single step. Only then do we have any understanding of the why of living. Only then, do we start a new and happier cycle.

—Joyce Hifler

Therefore be at peace with God, whatever you conceive Him to be,

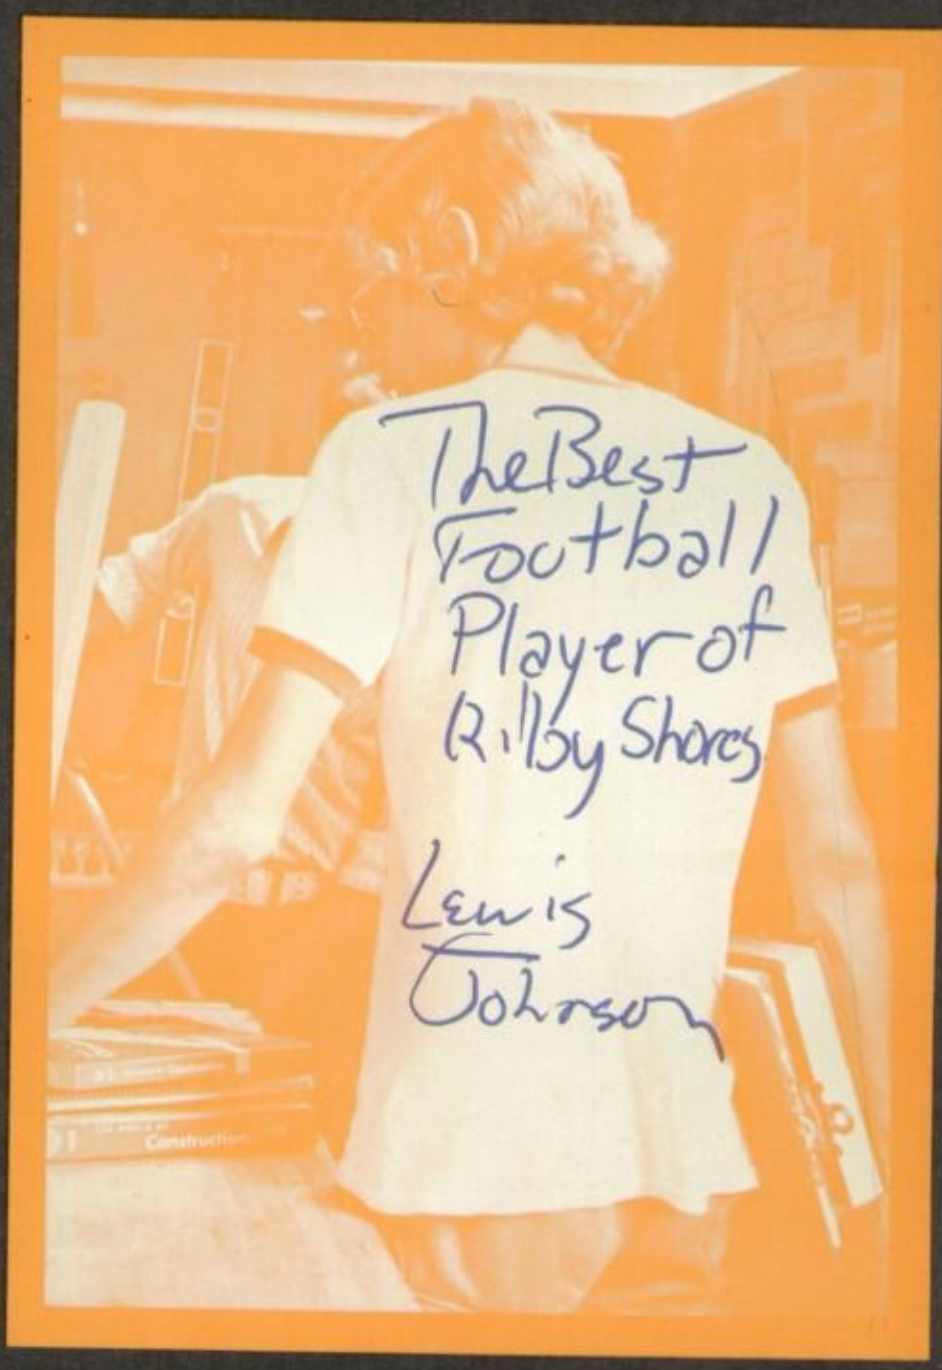


I believe in the sun
even when it is not shining

I believe in love
even when not feeling it

I believe in God
even when He is silent

—Unknown



and whatever your labors and aspirations, in the noisy confusion of life keep peace with your soul.

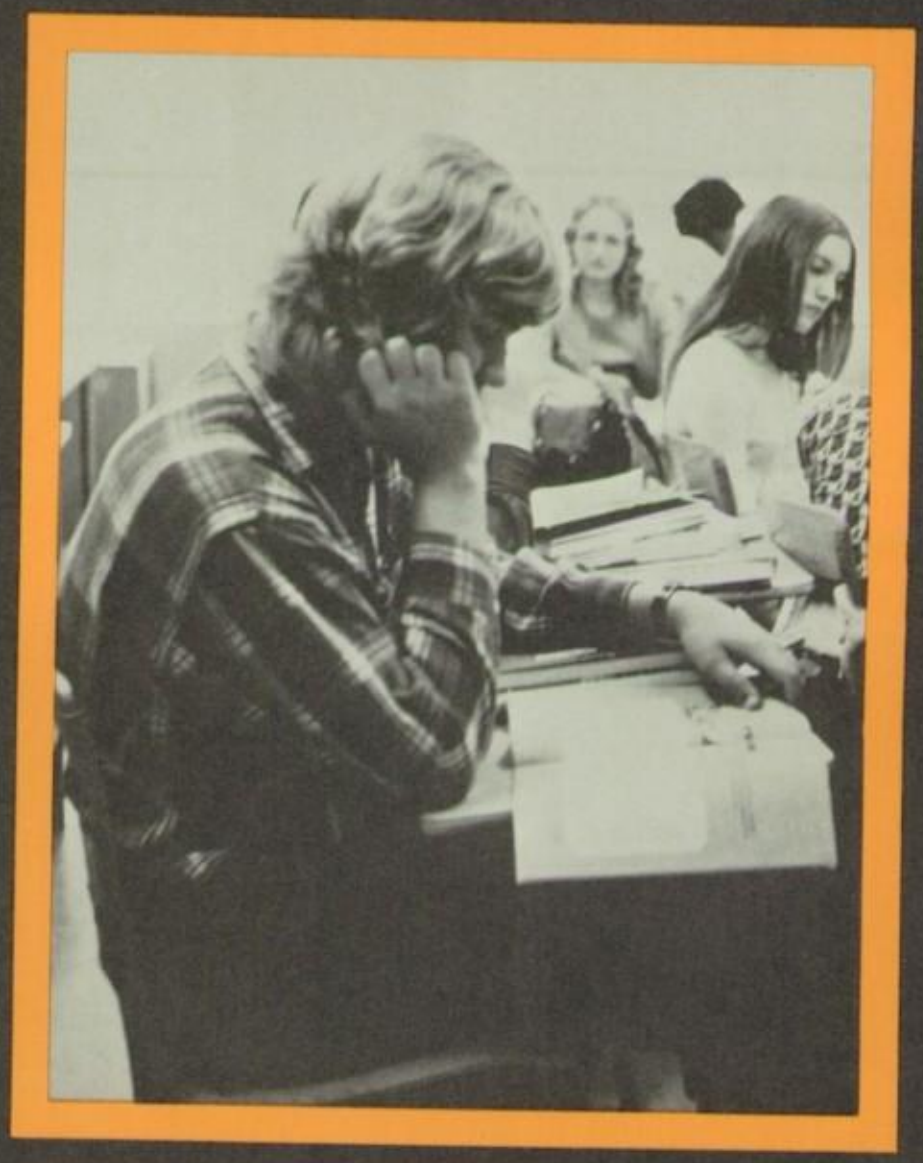
'With all its sham, drudgery, and broken dreams,

No regrets is a hard rule to practice. If something we have done wrong can be helped, we should make the effort. From there the plan should never include anything to regret. The main idea of not regretting is to forget the things about which we can do nothing.

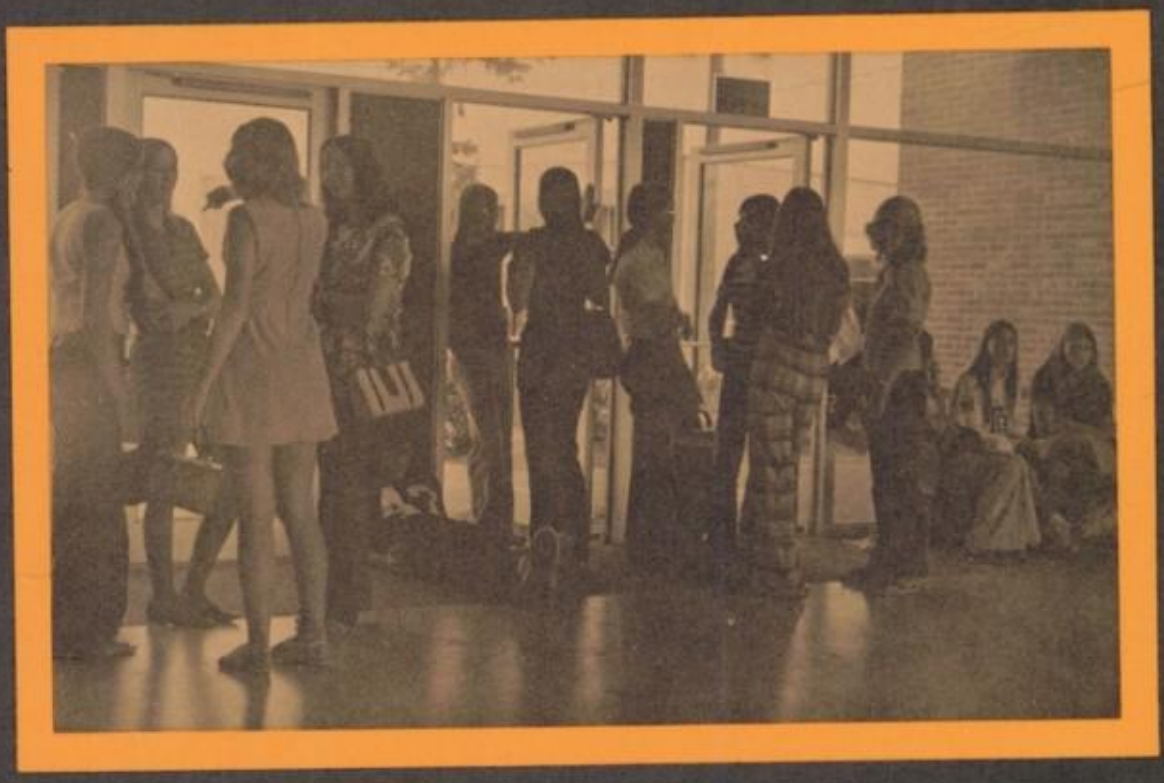
Crying over all that has gone can endure for a time. After that a new cycle begins, and we have to close the old and aim for the new.

Sometimes no regrets means giving up self-pity and prejudice against optimism, but most of all it means getting on with the living.

Joyce Hifler



it is still a beautiful world.



I still find each day too short for all the thoughts I want to think, all the walks I want to take, all the books I want to read, and all the friends I want to see. The longer I live the more my mind dwells upon the beauty and the wonder of the world.

—John Burroughs

Strive to be happy.

Happiness is like any other part of our lives — we must use wisdom in seeking it. We too often rush headlong into something that seems to be instant happiness, all the time telling ourselves we can right the wrong at a later time. But happiness does not remain happiness for very long when it has such strings attached.

In order to be happy we concentrate on getting, but it is giving that we find most necessary to mix into every moment. It may seem elusive, but all the things necessary are there, hidden within man himself.

Joyce Hifler

Well, I'm glad I got to know you better this year. You're about the craziest, dumbest guy I've ever known. I guess if you weren't crazy I wouldn't think so much of you as I do! Thanks for talking to me about Charles. Try to stay out of trouble this summer and maybe I'll see you around.

Love ya,

Denise

P.S. ~~I'm so much~~ I forgot what I was going to say!

Tommy,

I really have enjoyed getting to know you better this year. We've really had some good times haven't we? Especially in Geometry with Jack 42!! We had many a laugh in that class. I'll never forget that night you, Richard, Laura & I went to the park to swing! I was scared to death!! I'm sorry things didn't work out just right for you & Karen. I tryed to help, honest I did. But I guess Karen's a little mixed up and it's gonna take her awhile to find herself.

Tommy, you're really a nice guy with a great personality. I've enjoyed having you as a friend. Hope to see you again next year in Algebra II. Be good this summer and try to stay out of trouble! Good Luck.

Love always,

Laura Erdyna

Tommy,

Tommy,
Remember that night in October,
when we all had fun and also Dr. Peppers, Zups, and Pepsis. I ate too many pretzel sticks and got sick.
Man, we had fun writing and drawing on those Betty Benson candy boxes in Geometry.
Also, playing football was fun, even if you killed me! Good Luck and be careful with Karen.

You are such a crazy person. It's been great being in your Geometry class. I sure wish you all would tell me what was so funny. It embarrases(?) me when you all laugh at me. You are a real nice person. (I guess) Be good & behave. Hope we have some classes together next year. Best of luck in future yours in all you do.

I should of gone on top of Jockey Ridge with ya, just to see what you would do! But I'll have other chances to test ya! So try to behave T. . . and behaved! Good Luck with All the Girls. See ya this summer!

Tommy:

It has really been great having you in my English class this year. You really know how to brighten up a class. We really had some good times in English this year. Thanks to you that class would not have been the same. Have a great summer and I hope to see you but if I don't see you next year.

There is so much I could write but I won't take up all of your book. You, Karen, David and I have had some good times together as well as bad times (boy, have we had some bad times) Thank you for getting me and Richard together. I'll do you a favor one day: We've really had some long serious talks about two special people: Do ya think we will ever work out our many problems? Keep on seeking and do what you believe is right and you won't have fun this summer and you and Karen come see me. Good luck in all you do.

Tommy I had a good time in geometry this year. I hope you have a good time this summer and don't mess around with too many women. I hope we are in some classes together again next year. Dennis Shell

Tom

You is about the stupidest person I know. You always can find a way to get out of Geometry. Don't get drunk to many times this summer so you don't do anything that you ain't suppose to do.

Dennis Buford

Tommy,

Although we may not see eye-to-eye on everything, it has been an experience knowing you, and not a bad one, at that. I hope you find all in life that is good, wholesome, & worthy of you. Don't sell yourself short - Take care of yourself. Fondly,

J. Holland

Thomas O.,

I don't even know where to start. I guess we have really grown close during the past year. My feelings for you are so mixed up too. How do you feel about it? Will we ever be straightened out. Can you believe the way everything has changed?

We have really had some great times together; even when we weren't. Remember all of the times we went to see the Dickies, particularly Halloween? Then we went to that haunted house & you were dazed out on the floor. I don't think I've ever laughed so hard, either — There were times such as in the cemetery with Ricky Thomas, and the night you walked in with Kim & Dori feeling others. But — they were just as good as any others.

Our biggest problem is in the way we express our love. We do it each in our own way. My way is not verbally; it is always being here when you need me and using as such. Yours is verbal and physical.

Tommy I don't want to go on fighting like we do. Before, we never had a fight. I'd have rather

Later,

Karen
